Ike Draws Bitter Blast From Neely

Churchgoing Remark Stings GOP Senators

CLEVELAND, March 28 (AP)—Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-W.Va.) attacked President Eisenhower today as unqualified for his office, criticized publicity given the chief executive's churchgoing, and objected to the time he spends golfing and fishing.

The hot words Neely flung at the President in a speech before 3,000 CIO United Auto Workers convention delegates brought equally heated replies tonight from two Republican senators in Washington.

"An example of gutter desperation at its worst," said Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee.

"Shocking and revolting to the entire nation," declared Sen. Bender of Ohio.

Hagerty's Statement
Earlier White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said of the Neely blast: "I don't think anybody in the United States believes it."

Goldwater and Bender both were stung especially by Neely's mention of the President's churchgoing with these remarks:

"Eisenhower never joined a church until after he became president. . . . (Now) it has reached the point that one of the great papers of the country every Monday morning carries a story about Eisenhower's attendance at church the day before. . . .

"I object to connecting religion with politics. Any man who tries to parade his religion that way before the public is ungodly. If that's an unreasonable and unfair statement, then make the most of it."

UAW Official Quoted

One reporter covering the speech quoted a UAW official as telling him afterward:

"I had a funny feeling in my stomach when Neely began talking about Eisenhower's church habits. The man spent almost all of his adult life in the U.S. Army. How could he be criticized for not belonging to church?"

Neely said the President "just doesn't know what it's all about. He is just like Alice in Wonderland."

The country needs a president "who won't spend more than half his time playing golf and fishing," the senator told the unionists. "This is not a time for a president who can keep his eye on a golf ball, but for one who can keep the country from behind the eight-ball."

Closed Hearing Stirs Flurry Of Protests

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Acting under a new secrecy rule, a House Small Business subcommittee today barred press and public from its investigation of complaints against the business practices of major oil companies.

The action stirred up a flurry of protests and Chairman Roosevelt (D-Calif.) said the decision probably will be rescinded in time to throw tomorrow's hearing open.

Roosevelt said the closed-door policy was ordered on advice of the Rules Committee and the House parliamentarian because of a "code of fair play" adopted by the House last Wednesday under procedure which barred any amendments.

Grunewald Convicted In Tax-Fix Bribe Case

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—A federal jury tonight convicted Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald, Washington influence peddler, and two others of conspiracy in a $160,000 tax-fix bribery case.

Daniel E. Bolich, 54, former assistant commissioner of internal revenue, and Max Halperin, 69-year-old Manhattan attorney, were the other two found guilty in the case.

Cold-Blooded Triple Slayer Sought In Ky.

Farmer, Son, Girl, Hands Tied Behind Backs, Shot To Death

HENDERSON, Ky., March 28 (AP)—A farmer, his son and a daughter-in-law, their hands tied behind their backs, were found shot to death today.

The farmer's wife, similarly bound, was wounded and reported dying.

Each had been shot once in the head with a pistol.

Sheriff Lee Williams said the killings, in the vicinity of the small community of Geneva, were "as vicious a case of cold-blooded murder as I have ever seen."

No motive was immediately apparent.

The dead were: G. B. Duncan, 51; his son Raymond, 19, and Mrs. Dorris Ray Duncan, 20, wife of another son who presumably lived at the farm home.

Wounded Woman Unconscious
The wounded woman, Mrs. G. B. Duncan, 49, remained unconscious in a Henderson hospital.

The bodies of the two men were found by two neighboring farmers in a field, about a mile from Duncan's farm home. Their hands had been fastened behind their backs with their belts.

Sheriff Williams, going to the Duncan home to report the tragedy, found this scene:

In one bedroom, lying face down on a bed and naked from the waist down, was the slain young Duncan woman. Her hands had been bound with an electric cord.

2-Year-Old Girl Unharmed

In another bedroom, also lying face down on a bed and naked from the waist down, was the wounded elder Mrs. Duncan. Her hands had been tied with a sash cord.

On the bed with the younger Mrs. Duncan, but unharmed, was her 2-year-old daughter, Shirley Faye. Henderson detectives said today's slayings bore a striking similarity to the killing, just seven days ago, of a farm woman near Mount Vernon, Ind. The scene of today's slayings is only 15 miles southeast of Mount Vernon.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Susan Sailer, 47, was slain and raped March 21. She was shot once in a head with a pistol. Her hands were tied behind her with an apron.

West Urges U. N. Condemn Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 28 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France today called on the Security Council to condemn Israel for the Gaza raid. They demanded that Israel prevent such incidents.

The Western Big Three took this stand in a resolution distributed to the U. N. Security Council. The Council will meet at 3 p. m. tomorrow for its fourth session on the Gaza incident of Feb. 28. In that clash 38 Egyptians and 8 Israelis were killed.

The big Western Powers said in the resolution that the Israeli-Egyptian armistice is threatened by any deliberate violation by one of the parties. They also said progress toward permanent peace in Palestine cannot be made unless the parties comply strictly with their obligations under the armistice and the Security Council cease-fire order of 1948.

In a second resolution the three Western Powers asked Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, chief of staff for the U. N. truce supervisors in Palestine, to continue consultations with Egypt and Israel on practical ways to preserve peace in the tense border area.

Hull Still Critical
WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Cordell Hull remained on the "critical" list at Bethesda Naval Hospital today. Doctors said he showed "slight but sustained improvement."

The 83-year-old Hull, who was secretary of state in President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Cabinet, entered the hospital Saturday after suffering a stroke in his hotel apartment.

Young Hoodlums Threaten Teacher, Beat Two Students

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Youthful hoodlums slugged their way into a Bronx high school classroom today, bullied the teacher with a bayonet scabbard, beat two students and turned the class into a melee.

It apparently was a raid of revenge growing out of a street fight last Friday.

Police said the gang of about eight Negro youths knocked a monitor at the high school out of the way, swarmed into the class of about 35 pupils, and singled out two white boys as victims.

One hoodlum shoved a 15-inch bayonet sheath against the teacher, Mrs. Sophie Green, and snarled, "Stay quiet and keep out of this."

The class, stunned with bewilderment at first, broke into a clam-orous uproar as the mob of invaders pounced on two 16-year-old pupils, Raymond Bisesto, and Lawrence Capra, and began punching and kicking them.

As older pupils and other teachers, drawn by the bedlam, converged on the scene, the intruders dodged out of the room, and raced away from the building.

Police added details: They said a white boy had challenged a Negro to a fight because the Negro had taken a cigarette away from him. After the fight, the Negro complained to companions that his opponent hadn't fought fairly, thus touching off the raid to avenge him.

The mission may have misfired. Both of the boys assaulted in the classroom said they had not been involved in the earlier fisticuffs.

Ike To Meet Press
WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. EST.

Heavy Truck Almost Wrecks Small Town

This was the scene of destruction in Charlottesville, Ind., yesterday shortly after a heavy semi-trailer truck (top left) struck three automobiles and smashed the Charlottesville post office and three other business establishments. The truck driver, R. E. Scranton, of Medina, Ohio, was killed. One motorist was critically injured during the truck's rampage.

Big Part Of Ike's Military Reserve Plan Endorsed

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—A major part of President Eisenhower's military reserve program was approved by a House Armed Services subcommittee today after 10 weeks of public hearings and study.

Military leaders have indicated they will use the legislation to build up an active, trained and ready reserve of two million men by 1959.

The subcommittee approved creation of a volunteer force of between 100,000 and 250,000 young men who would take six months of active training and then serve an additional 7½ years in the reserves. The volunteers would be 17 and 18 year olds. Their tours of duty would be in lieu of Selective Service.

Compulsory Training

Also approved were provisions to compel up to 2,900,000 men in the reserve to take 48 weekly drills and two weeks of active service each year, or alternately 30 days of active service. Only about 700,000 reservists are taking this training now.

The subcommittee was unable to agree, however, on two key sections of the bill sponsored by the Pentagon.

It refused to recommend authority to draft men between 19 and 26 into the new six-month training corps if volunteers do not fill it.

Balks At Authority Section

It also balked at giving the President authority to recall a maximum of 750,000 ready reservists to active duty, without consulting Congress, in the event of another "brush fire" war, like Korea. Presidential authority to call up reserves in an emergency was taken away by Congress in 1952.

Both these sections lost on 6-6 tie votes.

Rep. Brooks (D-La.), subcommittee chairman, said there is still a "pretty good" chance that the full Armed Services Committee will approve the two sections when it takes up the bill April 18.

Road Need Estimate Proves Eye Opener

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The Bureau of Public Roads told Congress today it will cost 297 billion dollars to bring all the nation's streets and roads up to atomic age standards in the next 30 years.

Of this sum, 214 billion dollars would go into road construction. The rest would involve maintenance and administrative costs.

The 297-billion-dollar figure was the big eye opener in the bureau's long-delayed estimate of road needs, the first such major compilation in U. S. history.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said in forwarding the report to Congress that work should begin at once on a long-range program that would involve expenditures of 101 billion dollars in the next 10 years.

It was this figure, 101 billion, which provided the basis for President Eisenhower's highway program.

Ike To Meet Press

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. EST.

Rebel Prisoners Issue 'Demands'

LINCOLN, Neb., March 28 (AP)—Nine insurgent prisoners armed with knives and holding two guards as hostages sat tight in their Nebraska penitentiary "jail" today waiting for prison officials to act on a list of nine "demands."

The list was lowered by a rope from the second story of the isolated maximum security building where the prisoners have been holed up since Sunday forenoon.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson, who took charge of the situation personally, acknowledged receipt of the demands, but said there would be "no compromise" until the two guards were released unharmed.

In his reply to the prisoners, the governor said he felt most of the demands were "reasonable and deserve consideration." He said he would grant a hearing immediately in the warden's office to any inmate who desired it.

Twelve prisoners seized the unarmed guards—Warren B. Miller, 43, and Eugene Swanson, 34—yesterday morning. Early today three of the prisoners were allowed to leave the besieged building. They explained they left by mutual agreement as they were considered "dead weight" by the insurgents. The demands, first to be received from the prisoners, were briefly stated and the prisoners asked that the governor come to the window of the isolated building to talk to them over. The governor declined.

The demands, as stated by the prisoners:

1. A definite segregation sentence (apparently referring to the time spent in the maximum security building by prisoners sent there for infraction of prison rules).
2. Three hot meals daily.
3. Acknowledgement of inter-views.
4. Adequate medical attention.
5. No favoritism.
6. Dismissal of all guards that we can prove to be sadists and—
7. Keep mental patients out of the Hole (the maximum security building).
8. No reprisals.
9. The same reading material as allowed other inmates and a table "so we won't have to use our beds as tables."

Byrd Will Lead New Antarctic Expedition In Fall

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The White House announced today the United States will send a new expedition to the antarctic next November under command of retired Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, veteran explorer.

It said the expedition will begin work on three observation sites needed in connection with U. S. participation in the program for the International Geophysical Year, 1957-1958.

The expedition will consist of several ships and planes, the White House said. In announcing that Byrd will be designated by the Department of Defense as officer-in-charge, the White House noted that was the same title he held on the last full-fledged Navy antarctic expedition in 1946-47.

AEC Hopes To Fire Atomic Device Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 28 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today it hopes to fire tomorrow morning either a device dropped from a high-flying plane or the long-postponed major shot from a 500-foot tower.

It will be determined at a weather conference which, if either, blast can be set off at the Nevada proving ground.

Unfavorable weather has caused postponement of the tower shot since March 14. This shot involves troops stationed 3,500 yards away.

Year's Two Millionth Automobile Assembled

DETROIT, March 28 (AP)—The two millionth passenger automobile to be built in the United States this year was assembled today.

Last year's comparable vehicle didn't roll from the assembly lines until the week ended May 8. By that time this year passenger car assemblies should exceed three million.

And barring work stoppages the January-June total will be well above four million.

Consultations At High Level Are Revealed

Johnson, Aroused By Knowland, Hits At GOP 'War Talk'

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—The State Department said today the United States, Britain and France are engaged in "quite active consultations" on the question of a Big Four meeting with Russia.

The department's press officer, Henry Suydam, said officials in Washington, London and Paris are conducting "top level discussions" through regular diplomatic channels.

The discussions were set off by two developments:

1. France's ratification of the agreements to rearm Western Germany as part of the European defense union against communism. American officials have said all along that any talk of a Big Four meeting would have to await agreement on rearming the Germans. The French, up to this weekend, have been the big obstacle.

Bulgaria Favors Meeting

2. The statement by Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin that his government takes a "positive attitude" toward President Eisenhower's stand on a big power meeting. Eisenhower said last Wednesday that when the West German agreements were ratified, it might be time for exploratory talks looking toward a meeting of chiefs of state. The idea would be to seek ways to relieve world tensions.

Suydam said nothing has been settled, and it would be guesswork to predict what will happen. He indicated that in any event no East-West meeting can be held until after this spring's meeting of the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson, Knowland Clash

Meanwhile, Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) aroused Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) by declaring in the Senate that Democrats "don't want a war party to emerge in the United States any more than they want an appeasement party." Johnson and Knowland are their respective parties' leaders in the Senate.

Knowland retorted that "there is no war party and no war faction," but he said the United States should not give way before Chinese Communist efforts to seize Formosa. "The road to appeasement is not the road to peace," he said.

Knowland said yesterday that the United States should risk a world war if necessary to defend the Chinese Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu, stepping stones to Formosa.

Johnson said Knowland was going far afield in his reaction, but he added:

"I think I can speak for all the people when I say that they prefer peace to war. If, when we say that, we offend some people, if the shoe fits let them wear it."

Argentine Paper Blasts Catholics

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 28 (AP)—The semi-official newspaper Democracia assailed Roman Catholic leadership in Argentina today as a "shameful and worn-out oligarchy" that has tried to undermine President Juan D. Peron's social program.

The attack was made in a front page editorial answering a pastoral letter read in all Argentine Catholic churches yesterday. The letter defended the church's position in its five-month feud with the Peron government.

Democracia's reply—considered an authoritative statement of the administration's views—declared ranking Catholic prelates were the "worst and most insidious enemies" of Peron's efforts to improve conditions for the working classes.

"These cardinals, archbishops and bishops, who today shamefully claim virtues to which they are not entitled, were hidden accomplices" in exploitation of the common people, the paper said. "Instead of arising like Christ in defense of the humble, they preached a shameful and cowardly resignation to the workers."

Year's Two Millionth Automobile Assembled

DETROIT, March 28 (AP) — The two millionth passenger automobile to be built in the United States this year was assembled today.

Last year's comparable vehicle didn't roll from the assembly lines until the week ended May 8. By that time this year passenger car assemblies should exceed three million.

And barring work stoppages the January-June total will be well above four million.

Early Red Attack On Matsu Islands Believed Unlikely

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 28 (AP) — Qualified quarters today said they saw nothing to indicate a huge onslaught against the Matsus is near.

These sources, who cannot be named, insisted the Communists need much more time to build up for an all-out attack on the islands 100 miles northwest of Formosa.

Various quarters emphasized the Communists now are capable of small or medium attacks on the islands some 20 miles off the Red mainland. But they feel the reinforced garrison — possibly 11,000 men—can repulse such invasions.

Many appeared puzzled by Washington dispatches mentioning mid-April as a possible time for the Red attack.

Official Nationalist military quarters declined to discuss the situation. They apparently did not want to be put in the position of contradicting the Washington appraisal.

Other competent sources, however, doubted a showdown was near although conceding it is almost impossible to determine beforehand the date for a Red offensive.

They contended that the Communists probably would await completion of the big new air base at Luchiao (Lukiao), 100 miles north of the Matsus.

Suspect Admits Murder Of Four

MCMINNVILLE, Tenn., March 28 (AP) — Dist. Atty. Gen. Fred Gilliam said Billy Gibbs, 23, signed a statement today admitting he killed four members of a farm family whose bodies were found near their home yesterday.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bratcher, their daughter, Lily May, 10, and their motherless granddaughter, Charlotte Ann Bratcher, 20 months old.

"I just didn't know what I was doing," Gilliam quoted Gibbs as saying in the statement. "I was sorry right after I shot Henry."

Gibbs gave no motive for the mass slayings, the district attorney general said. The prisoner, arrested shortly before the bodies were found, signed a statement in the presence of his father and Tennessee Bureau of Identification Agent Kenneth Shelton, Gilliam said.

The Bratchers were shot to death with a rifle, the girl was beaten to death with a hammer and the baby was dropped into a cistern.

Johnson, Aroused By Knowland, Hits At GOP 'War Talk'

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — The State Department said today the United States, Britain and France are engaged in "quite active consultations" on the question of a Big Four meeting with Russia.

The department's press officer, Henry Sydam, said officials in Washington, London and Paris are conducting "top level discussions" through regular diplomatic channels.

The discussions were set off by two developments:

1. France's ratification of the agreements to rearm Western Germany as part of the European defense union against communism.
2. American officials have said all along that any talk of a Big Four meeting would have to await agreement on rearming the Germans. The French, up to this weekend, have been the big obstacle.

Bulganin Favors Meeting
The statement by Russia's Premier Nikolai Bulganin that his government takes a "positive attitude" toward President Eisenhower's stand on a big power meeting, Eisenhower said last Wednesday that when the West German agreements were ratified, it might be time for exploratory talks looking toward a meeting of chiefs of state. The idea would be to seek ways to relieve world tensions.

Sydam said nothing has been settled, and it would be guesswork to predict what will happen. He indicated that in any event no East-West meeting can be held until after this spring's meeting of the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson, Knowland Clash
Meanwhile, Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) aroused Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) by declaring in the Senate that Democrats "don't want a war party to emerge in the United States any more than they want an appeasement party."

Johnson and Knowland are their respective parties' leaders in the Senate.

Knowland retorted that "there is no war party and no war faction," but he said the United States should not give way before Chinese Communist efforts to seize Formosa. "The road to appeasement is not the road to peace," he said.

Knowland said yesterday that the United States should risk a world war if necessary to defend the Chinese Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu, stepping stones to Formosa.

Johnson said Knowland was going far afield in his reaction, but he added:

"I think I can speak for all the people when I say that they prefer peace to war. If, when we say that, we offend some people, if the shoe fits let them wear it."

Kan. Governor Vetoes 'Right To Work' Bill

TOPEKA, Kan., March 28 (AP) — Gov. Fred Hall today vetoed a so-called "right to work" bill which would have prohibited union shop labor contracts in Kansas.

Hall asserted there is no need for the measure which cleared both branches of the Legislature with strong support from his own Republican party.

The governor declared the rights of workers are adequately protected under existing statutes.

Vacation For Senate

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP) — Sen. Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) said today the Senate will take an Easter vacation from April 4 to 13 or "at least" conduct no important business during that period.

The civil defense phase of the test, which in theory will cover a nine-day emergency period, will last for 26 hours—from 11 a. m. on June 15 until 1 p. m. on June 16.

The government test will continue through June 17. Some key officials, cabinet officers included, will be notified at the outset that they are "casualties" and out of action.

Emergency "successors," already named in each agency, will take over the job of organizing a system for running the government from the pre-designated relocation centers.

Federal Estimate Of Road Needs In Maryland Makes 12-Year Plan Look Small

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—The federal government's reckoning of Maryland's highway needs makes the State's ambitious 12-year roads program look a little puny.

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads came out today with an estimate Maryland needs $1,524,000,000 worth of highway improvements in the ten years between now and 1965.

The General Assembly and the State Roads Commission in 1953 embarked Maryland on a 12-year program calling for 568 million dollars worth of construction.

The discrepancy of almost a billion dollars between the two figures is not quite as great as it seems at first, a spokesman for the State Roads Commission pointed out today.

The federal figure, for example, includes work on all kinds of roads and streets in the State.

Maryland's 12-year program includes only work on highways in the State system, mostly outside the city limits and with little provision for county roads or city expressways. A heavy part of the outlay suggested by the Federal bureau would be for city and suburban thoroughways, built by municipalities and counties.

One of the big differences in the figures involves the so-called "interstate highway system."

The federal bureau estimated 434 millions should be spent on this system in Maryland in the next 10 years.

"Fantastic," said the roads commission spokesman.

His reaction is due to the fact Maryland has only 270 miles or so on the "interstate highway system." A highway isn't in this system simply because it carries a federal number. The system includes only main highways between state capitals and major cities. The Maryland sections of U. S. 40, U. S. 1, U. S. 11 and some others are on the "interstate system."

Provision of 434 million—a million and a half a mile—for the "interstate" roads in Maryland also comes in the face of the fact most of Maryland's 270 miles are in reasonably good shape.

The bureau also recommended 496 million should be spent on that part of Maryland's primary and secondary road systems eligible for Federal aid—284 million on urban roads and 212 for rural roads.

Proposal To Make Churchill Citizen Of Md. Draws Fire

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 28 (AP)—Del. Milnicz (D-Balto 1st) said today he had received numerous protests from "all nationalities" in his district against a proposal to make Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England a Maryland citizen.

Milnicz asked Del. McNeal (D-Balto 3rd), sponsor of the Churchill citizenship bill, to withdraw the bill. Milnicz told the House of Delegates there had been complaints "against a man who allowed free trade with Red China, Hong Kong and Singapore."

$3,500 Clothing Theft

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—A West Baltimore tailoring company reported today that burglars, apparently using trucks and making several trips, escaped with $3,500 worth of new clothing.

Myer Melnicove, head of the Melnicove Tailoring Co., reported that at least 55 men's spring suits were among the loot.

First visit to England by a native American is said to have occurred about 1585.

Jelke's Defense Due To Wind Up Its Case Today

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—Mickey Jelke's defense presented testimony today that Pat Ward made herself available by telephone to male playmates after she split with the oleomargarine heir.

The testimony came as the defense stepped up a blitz on the character of the 21-year-old cafe society butterfly, from girlhood right on through her fling as a $50-to-$100-a-date call girl.

The state rested its compulsory prostitution case against the 25-year-old Jelke last Thursday. The defense called its first witnesses today.

Defense lawyers expect to finish their case tomorrow and a jury of 10 men and two women should begin deliberations later in the week.

Agnes Le Vine, a short, bespectacled brunette who once worked for Miss Ward's telephone answering service, testified the playgirl resumed the service in April 1952, after her break with Jelke. Asked how many men got in touch with Miss Ward that spring, the witness replied:

"At first it wasn't too many, but then it picked up."

In cross-examination, however, the state brought out that prior to the breakup, Jelke paid a bill for the answering service and sometimes took calls from men seeking Miss Ward's favors.

Baltimore Will Use Radar To Time Its Traffic Lights

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—Henry A. Barnes, Baltimore's traffic jam buster, decided today to use radar to time stop lights.

The city's famed traffic director ordered 25 of the gadgets from a firm which makes them at Norwalk, Conn. He hopes to get about $40 more.

The big hitch apparently is going to be getting licenses for them from the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

Barnes applied for a license to cover their operation throughout the city. The FCC said he'd have to get a new broadcasting permit for each intersection where he installs them.

The radar gadgets look like cans 18 inches high and 14 inches across. They are hung on light poles near an intersection.

They count cars on the intersecting streets and then adjust the time of the traffic light at the corner to give the most green time to the busiest street.

Counting cars and adjusting the lights in accordance is nothing new, particularly with Henry Barnes, but heretofore the counting was done by treadles buried in the streets.

He estimates the average cost of treadles installed is $900 an intersection. The radar counters cost about $550 a set, installed.

Harlan Takes Seat On Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—A simple, quiet ceremony that lasted about three minutes today bestowed upon John Marshall Harlan the title "associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Unlike most oath-taking occasions here, there were no flashing cameras, no applause, no line of handshakers. High court decorum bars these.

After he took his seat, Harlan—his face apparently flushed in excitement—did nod and smile broadly at the congratulatory gestures of friends and family seated in the courtroom. But then court procedure moved quickly along without a break in the Monday routine of admitting lawyers, handing down decisions and hearing arguments.

In the summer of 1953 a uranium rush started in Canada's Blind River district east of Sault Ste. Marie. Within a few weeks 10,000 claims were staked.

5 D. C. Residents Seized For Tax Evasion In Md.

BETHESDA, Md., March 28 (AP)—Five Washington residents who work at a federal installation here were arrested on their jobs today and charged with failure to pay nonresident income taxes to Maryland in 1953.

The five, all employees of the National Institutes of Health, were indicted last Thursday. Two others indicted on similar charges have not been located, authorities said. A. Culman Barrett, manager of the Washington office of the Maryland State Income Tax Division, said the five arrested had been contacted personally and warned that they were violating the law but still refused to comply.

In 1956, Maryland's Assembly passed a law which no American body of legislators has ever dared to repeat. A tax was levied "on all bachelors of 25 years of age and upward."

BALTIMORE, March 28 (AP)—A West Baltimore tailoring company reported today that burglars, apparently using trucks and making several trips, escaped with $3,500 worth of new clothing.

Myer Melnicov, head of the Melnicov Tailoring Co., reported that at least 55 men's spring suits were among the loot.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 28 (INS)—In a lively double play, Walt Disney has signed a long term contract for movies, TV and radio with Buddy Ebsen and bought a book which has just been awarded the Newberry Medal "as the most distinguished contribution to literature for children," a story by Esther Forbes titled "Johnny Tremain."

Now about Buddy, his contract was negotiated by Jimmy McHugh, Jr., and his first stint will be a P. A. tour through Texas and the South beating the tom-toms for "Davy Crockett, King of the Wild Frontier." When he returns he will be on the new "Mickey Mouse Club" show on TV and also on the very popular "Disneyland."

The book Walt bought, "Johnny Tremain," will be presented as a "Disneyland" TV production for next season starting September 14.

One of my favorite directors, Norman Taurog, will direct George Gobel in "The Lady Eve."

George has ten weeks layoff this summer from TV, and he will be working eight weeks of that time on "The Lady Eve." Not much rest.

There'd be no justice if Marguerite Piazza didn't get to do a motion picture, she's so photogenic.

she has such style when she sings, and such a personality.

Well, there's a film offering looming on the horizon for her. After she finishes her Sands engagement in Las Vegas, she'll fly in to discuss a one movie deal with Joe Pasternak.

But before she makes a picture at MGM she and her husband and three children will go to London where she will do the movie version of "The Rape of Lucretia," which she sang in Chicago.

One of the most exciting modern stories of the sea is that of the Finnish tanker "Aruba," loaded with jet fuel for Red China and beset with every danger from near mutiny by the crew to the risk of being fired on by the Chinese Nationalists or being intercepted by the American Navy.

Now Ingo Preminger (agent brother of Otto) and Director Andrew Marton have cabled the captain, Henry Bjorksten, with an offer for his life story. Especially the part dealing with his dangerous mission.

All this is right up Marton's alley as he was the location director for location sequences of "King Solomon's Mines."

The tragedy that followed the publication of "Raintree County," the novel by Ross Lockridge, has never been forgotten in the literary world. Lockridge was paid $250,000 for his book in the MGM book contest. He poured everything he had into his story, then took his own life.

Now, "Raintree County" is David Lewis' first picture on the MGM lot. He said that Dore Schary is also going to give him a shot at producing a woman's story.

I've just learned that Brian Donlevy's TV series, "Dangerous Assignment," is due to get the "Dragnet" treatment. By this, I mean, the TV show (and very popular it is, too) will be made into a feature length movie just as Jack Webb converted his "Dragnet" series to the screen.

Steve Brody, of Allied Artists, is the backer of Brian's movie.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The cast is off Dick Powell's arm and he's at Columbia starting work on his first at this studio.

John Wayne planned out for business in Dallas and New York until Wednesday. His bride didn't go with him as they both expected, because she's not feeling well.

Bob Dix, Richard's boy, who is looming as one of MGM's young hopefuls, is decorating a new apartment and the prettiest fixture in it is Arlene Soloff, blonde starlet who is helping him decorate.

Tallulah Bankhead will be here soon with her show, "Dear Charles." She's asked Hugh Wedlock and Howard Snyder to write an act for her appearance at the Las Vegas Sands in July.

The comedy scene to end all comedy scenes is the one between Jim Backus and Francis, the mule, in "Francis Joins the Navy." Backus talks to the mule in the voice he uses as Mr. Magoo.

Trucker Fined For Overload

Sending a truck on the Maryland highways with an 18,600-pound overload cost a Fairmont (W. Va.) trucking firm a $1,098 fine, State Roads Commission records show.

The load was listed as "shovel," apparently a large power shovel. The company was the Ray Thomas Transportation Company, of Fairmont. The violation occurred on Route 36 and the fine was assessed in magistrate's court in Frostburg.

Another truck overloaded with frozen grape concentrate, according to commission records, cost the Milton C. Henderson Company, of Northeast, Pa., a $933.25 fine in Rockville.

The commission said that total convictions since January 1, 1954, for overweight trucks have reached 3,998, and the total fines $218,101.07.

From February 26, 1955, through March 5, convictions were recorded in 68 cases.

Campbell Returned On Burglary Count

A charge of burglary will be filed against a former Eckhart man in the $2,800 theft at an Eckhart store, Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, and Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, announced Saturday.

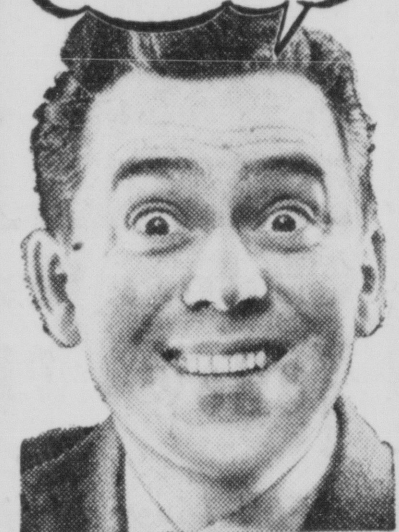

Baker and Lilya returned Earl A. Campbell, 43, from Albany, N. Y., late Friday night and lodged him in the County Jail.

The two officers said none of the $1,800 in cash and $1,000 in securities taken from Engles Meat Market a year ago Thursday was recovered.

Another suspect in the burglary is being sought, Baker and Lilya said.

The meat market owned by Walter Engle was entered on the night of March 24, 1954, when a window was forced. A safe was opened by the burglar or burglars to obtain the loot.

Red Cross Lacks $15,000 In Current Drive

The annual Red Cross drive enters its final week still far short of its $37,000 goal, according to Robert Little Ebert, campaign chairman. Total tabulated to Saturday is $21,466.17.

Campaign leaders and Red Cross officials met over the weekend to re-evaluate the returns and develop a plan of action that will spur the lagging campaign to a successful conclusion.

"Red Cross has never failed to meet its goal in Allegany County," says Ebert, "and we are determined to find the answers to a successful climax."

Workers throughout the city and county are being urged to redouble their efforts this week. If every working person and every housewife is contacted and asked to give at least a dollar for Red Cross, Ebert is certain of victory.

"Our Red Cross charter requires that we give service to servicemen and their families, to veterans, to those in disaster areas, to those seeking training in home nursing, first aid and water safety," according to Mrs. Harry Beneman, chapter chairman. "We must continue those services if we are to remain a part of the American Red Cross. Your dollars now are our only source of providing those services for the coming year."

Medical men are speaking for Red Cross, too, in an effort to save the excellent Blood Program in this county. For the past three years no resident of the county in need of blood has had to pay for it or replace it, no matter where hospital.

The availability of fresh blood at all times also has been a factor in saving lives. Drs. W. Royce Hodges, Samuel M. Jacobson and Fuller B. Whitworth have already publicly spoken in behalf of Red Cross financial support, and others are scheduled to do so this week.

"Those who have not been contacted, or who wish to make additional contributions to insure the success of the drive, are urged to mail their checks to Red Cross, Post Office, Cumberland, or phone the Red Cross office or any campaign worker," was Ebert's closing plea as the final week of the drive begins.

12 Inductees Leave April 21

Cumberland draft boards will send 12 registrants to Fairmont (W. Va.) April 21 for induction into the armed forces.

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator, said Board 27 will dispatch four; Board 28, three and Board 29, five. No orders were received for pre-induction physical examinations.

Fahey reported the contingent will meet at 6:20 a. m. in Selective Service quarters at the Post Office building for final briefing.

The inductees will leave the Blue Ridge Bus Terminal at 6:50.

Cadillac

Take It Easy!

Sure you're out in the country—in a state-restricted area. And that powerful Cadillac engine is itching your throttle toe. But don't do it!

That isn't the purpose back of this great engine. It was created to give you phenomenal bursts of speed when you need them.

It was created to give your Cadillac the long life and freedom from repairs that come when your engine "loafs" at the normal driving speeds.

And it was created to give you the driving confidence that is yours only when you know you are master of every driving situation likely to occur.

So don't use that tremendous power to dominate the highway—or to embarrass a fellow motorist. In fact, a good rule for Cadillac owners might very well read: "Be last away when the light turns green. Remember: it's not how fast, but how wonderful."

And how wonderful it is!

Let's say you are trying to go from one climate to another in a single day. Is it four hundred—six hundred miles?

Just follow the laws of the states you cross—keep rolling—and drive until you are ready for bed.

What about getting tired? To the average Cadillac driver, it just doesn't happen!

Mile for mile—hundred for hundred—there just wasn't ever another car like this.

That's why we say: Don't try to prove anything in a hundred feet. Prove it, rather, in a hundred miles—or in five times as many—or in half a dozen years.

Of course, the foregoing message is addressed to the person who has already purchased his Cadillac.

But we also have a message for those who still have that delightful experience in store.

Come in and drive the car. That's when an hour will prove something. It will prove you're missing out on the finest motor car performance of all time.

City Earmarks $700 For Blood Program

The Mayor and Council yesterday stressed the importance of the Red Cross blood bank to Cumberland when it voted $700 to the fund campaign for the sole use of the blood program.

Previously, the city had given $300 to the general Red Cross fund drive.

But Commissioner John J. Long said he had been told by Robert Little Ebert, fund drive chairman, that if the present campaign is not successful it will probably be necessary to eliminate the blood program.

Led by Mayor Roy W. Eves, members of council stressed the importance of the blood program to Cumberland.

The order for the $700 provides that the donation will be void if the blood program is eliminated.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 85,200,000 gallons compared to 88,230,000 the same period a year ago. The water level at Lake Gordon is five inches above the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon two inches above.

Rev. John U. Lyness, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, gave the invocation at yesterday's meeting.

Property Acquisition

Progress Reviewed

City officials are conferring with

Frank H. Thomas of the Real Estate Acquisition Division, Corps of Engineers, yesterday concerning acquisition of property for flood control purposes under a contract to let sometime after June 1.

It was reported that approximately 22 homes will be required under this phase of work and a number of vacant properties.

City officials pointed out that acquisition could not commence heretofore because funds were not available. But with the sale of $400,000 in bonds April 4, the city hopes to have more than sufficient funds for both real estate and construction costs.

The contract will be a continuation of the third phase or primarily levee work, it was said.

Also attending were City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, James Perrin, local realtor, and Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers.

Youngsters Visit

Central Fire Station

The other day a group of youngsters from Syckes Kindergarten got the thrill of a lifetime when they visited Central Fire Station and caught a close glimpse of the 85-foot aerial ladder truck and other equipment housed in the building.

While on their tour of the fire hall they were shown a demonstration of the alarm system, were taken on an inspection tour of the sleeping quarters and saw a life net practice by the firemen. Approximately 25 youngsters between five and six years old were given the opportunity to visit the fire hall on two separate afternoons.

Stock in the "XYZ Buggy Company" may have been a good buy once, but you probably wouldn't get much for it today. However, many companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange are prospering now because of products that weren't even the gleam in a scientist's eye a few years ago. Under the sponsorship of the Department of Education and Literature, the contest will extend until April 15. Entries should be mailed or delivered to Mrs. Roman A. Paska, 1316 Kitmore Road, Baltimore.

The contest is organized in three divisions: high school, college, and alumnae. Each of these divisions will be judged separately.

Judges are Rev. William Kailer Dunn, Rev. Dr. Leo J. McCormick, archdiocese superintendent of schools, and Rev. John Sinnott Martin, former editor of The Catholic Review, all of Baltimore.

City May Suggest Bridge Name Soon

The Mayor and Council might make its recommendation for naming the new Blue Bridge next week.

Mayor Roy W. Eves voiced the possibility yesterday in announcing several more names had been suggested. These have been added to the file he is keeping, the Mayor said.

Council will make its recommendation from names proposed by interested citizens and organizations and forward the selection to the Maryland State Roads Commission.

The bridge will be opened as part of the city's bicentennial celebration later this year.

Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum invited members of council, the city attorney and city engineer to a meeting at her home, 816 Buckingham Road, to discuss certain plans for the bicentennial.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, April 5 at 8 p. m., Mayor Eves said.

Missing Plane Lands Safely

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., March 28 (AP)—An air search for a missing plane ended today when the craft and its pilot turned up safe on a farm in Preston County.

Lost in a snowstorm and with his fuel down to a 20-minute supply, L. C. Chandler of Akron made an emergency landing yesterday afternoon near Bruceton Mills on the farm of a family named Benson.

Chandler told the Civil Air Patrol by telephone that he was not hurt and his single-engine Piper Tri-Pacer plane was not damaged. He was flying alone from Richmond to Akron.

City Earmarks $700 For Blood Program

The Mayor and Council yesterday stressed the importance of the Red Cross blood bank to Cumberland when it voted $700 to the fund campaign for the sole use of the blood program.

Previously, the city had given $300 to the general Red Cross fund drive.

But Commissioner John J. Long said he had been told by Robert Little Ebert, fund drive chairman, that if the present campaign is not successful it will probably be necessary to eliminate the blood program.

Led by Mayor Roy W. Eves, members of council stressed the importance of the blood program to Cumberland.

The order for the $700 provides that the donation will be void if the blood program is eliminated.

Ask Water Service

Council placed on the record today a request from residents of the Pea Vine Run section of Bedford Road to tap onto the city water line from Lake Gordon.

While taking no action, the city referred the matter to Water Commissioner William J. Edwards and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for study and recommendation.

It was understood residents would pay for installation of the service line under their proposal.

In routine action, council approved the request of Ruth V. Morgan, secretary in the Smoke Abatement Department, for a year's leave of absence beginning April 22.

Issue Checks Friday
Authorized was the issuance of checks to city employees Friday for the last two weeks of the month.

Parking Meter Inspector Harry Whisner reported collections of $672.70 the week of March 13 compared to $677.38 the week of March 27 or an increase of $4.98.

Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 85,200,000 gallons compared to 88,230,000 the same period a year ago. The water level at Lake Gordon is five inches above the crest of the spillway and at Lake Koon two inches above.

Rev. John U. Lyness, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, gave the invocation at yesterday's meeting.

Flood Protection Property Acquisition Progress Reviewed

City officials are conferring with Frank H. Thomas of the Real Estate Acquisition Division, Corps of Engineers, yesterday concerning acquisition of property for flood control purposes under a contract to be let sometime after June 1.

It was reported that approximately 22 homes will be required under this phase of work and a number of vacant properties.

City officials pointed out that acquisition could not commence heretofore because funds were not available. But with the sale of $400,000 in bonds April 4, the city hopes to have more than sufficient funds for both real estate and construction costs.

The contract will be a continuation of the third phase of primarily levee work, it was said.

Also attending were City Attorney Thomas B. Finan, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, James Perrin, local realtor, and Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers.

Youngsters Visit Central Fire Station

The other day a group of youngsters from Sykes Kindergarten got the thrill of a lifetime when they visited Central Fire Station and caught a close glimpse of the 85-foot aerial ladder truck and other equipment housed in the building.

While on their tour of the fire hall they were shown a demonstration of the alarm system, were taken on an inspection tour of the sleeping quarters and saw a life net practice by the firemen. Approximately 25 youngsters between five and six years old were given the opportunity to visit the fire hall on two separate afternoons.

License Tag Sale Hits Heaviest Pace

Should you buy stocks and forget about them?

Question by Gus Burhardt, cost analyst, South Norwalk, Conn.

Stock in the "XYZ Buggy-whip Company" may have been a good buy once, but you probably wouldn't get much for it today. However, many companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange are prospering now because of products that weren't even the gleam in a scientist's eye a few years ago. That's why investments in stocks should be reviewed from time to time, as you'd review any other sort of investment.

Few people have time to become experts. But it's easy to get expert help from a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. To invest on a sound basis, you should have first some insurance and money for emergencies. Then you should investigate before you invest. Member Firms will be glad to give you facts about any of the 1,526 common and preferred stocks and 840 corporate bonds on the Exchange, and there's no charge for this information. ## Tactical Vs. Strategic Weapons Of Warfare

This country is on record as reserving the right to use atomic weapons as simply another category of weapons in its arsenal. Sly Soviet efforts to get America and the Western alliance to renounce all use of nuclear weapons have met with sensible refusal in the absence of any certainty that Russia would carry out her side of the bargain. After all, a deadly weapon is a deadly weapon, whether it is a rifle killing one man at a time or a hydrogen bomb killing multitudes.

Of late, however, some distinctions have been made between the atomic kinds. The other day Secretary of State Dulles made sure the Chinese Reds learned about the "tactical" nuclear missiles capable of pinpointing targets without spreading destruction far beyond. President Eisenhower's comment is that such weapons will be used in any major conflict the U. S. may be involved in.

Barring wars of the Korean magnitude, for example, these weapons—ballistic, guided, or whatever types—are rapidly losing their extraordinary character. When placed alongside such things as the megabombs (equivalent to millions of tons of TNT) they are picayunish. They will naturally take their place beside the non-atomic weapons. Gunnery schools are doubtless training men in the use of the atomic cannon as something which is just a far more powerful cannon than, say, a battleship's main armament.

It's one thing, of course, to talk about these tactical weapons for use at fairly close quarter with the enemy, and it's something else to talk about the long-range strategic weapons of devastation. But there again the tactical device is defense standby—able to go aloft and intercept an intercontinental guided missile of the future and destroy it far at sea.

The Claque

Whenever any administration in Washington takes a position on any subject, there is always a claque of distinguished names that is used for supporting applause. The same names often appeared in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations as now appear in the Eisenhower administration. For many of these men, it is always "God's in His heaven: All's right with the world."

Unfortunately for their reputations, all has not gone well, certainly with the universal desire for a restored and permanent peace. The war, which commenced in 1914, has managed in one form or another to continue to this day. The pessimists who questioned the virtue of secret diplomacy and deals without principle have been justified by the course of events.

And so, one comes across comments concerning the Yalta agreements which are not born out by the publication of the Yalta documents. For instance, Harry Truman, then vice president of the United States, said of them:

"We're going to look forward to the most glorious period in the history of the world."

Surely, the period between 1945 and 1955 has not been the most glorious in the history of the world from the standpoint of achievement of any kind.

James Byrnes, who was present at Yalta, said:

"Every person should be proud of the role played by the President, especially in the discussion of economic and political problems. . . . I was tremendously impressed by the comradeship and genuine affection showed by the three leaders."

Elliott Roosevelt, in his book, "As He Saw It," gives us this:

"Harry Hopkins is my witness for the statement that the unity of Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt was a firmer and more tangible thing at Yalta than at Teheran. And it was evident that father's role, even more than at earlier conferences, was that of leader. It is not by chance that he sat in the middle, when the pictures were taken. He dominated Winston Churchill more completely than before; Joseph Stalin was likewise prepared to heed father's counsel, to accept father's solutions."

The evidence in the documents shows that Stalin was a master of the situation and that the only one of the three who raised his voice in favor of the morality of Western civilization was Winston Churchill in his remarkable defense of free elections.

Admiral William D. Leahy seems to have been one of the very few men in public life, particularly among those who were close to President Roosevelt, who suffered misgivings. He said:

"... The proposed peace seemed to me a frightening sowing of dragon's teeth that carried germs of an appalling war revenge at some time in the distant future. There was another compelling factor that kept me from sharing in the feeling of great hope, almost exultation that prevailed in our American delegation as we left Yalta: as to the practicability of maintaining world peace through the United Nations. The essential agreement to destroy German militarism accepted at the conference would make Russia the dominant power in Europe."

We now know from the contents of the documents that Winston Churchill could not at Yalta have believed what he said at the time:

"The impression that I brought back from the Crimea and from all my other contacts is that Marshal Stalin and the other Soviet leaders wish to live in honorable friendship and democracy with the Western democracies . . ."

This must have been diplomacy rather than statesmanship speaking, for if any man suffered from a squeeze play, it was Winston Churchill at Yalta who found himself between Roosevelt and Stalin. He was almost an unwanted middleman. In fact, Roosevelt occasionally indicated to Stalin that the British were a peculiar people who liked to have their cake and eat it too, thus giving Stalin a broad hint that he and Churchill were not a unit.

I can only add, to be impartial, that the Republican senator from Vermont, Warren Austin, said of Yalta that "It's the answer to a prayer."

Conferences On Disarmament Today Are Just "Talk"

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — "Disarmament" is a magic word. It is supposed to be a synonym for "peace." It makes headlines right along whether it is based on a promise out of Moscow to explore the subject or whether it ensues from the appointment of a "minister for disarmament" as Harold Stassen has been called.

But the word "disarmament" is a misnomer. No government really intends to agree to discard all its weapons. What is being suggested for discussion is a "reduction" of armament with an agreement to prohibit the use of atomic or hydrogen bombs.

Actually the entire "disarmament" project today is a gimmick—respected alike by skillful strategists on both sides of the "cold war." It is used to give the impression that each sponsor of "disarmament" is anxious to avoid war and insure peace.

Enveloped In Illusion

But while "disarmament" or "limitation of armament" is a worthy goal, the whole idea is enveloped today in a major illusion. It is that merely by signing a document or a formula for reduction of armament the end result—peace and a release from tension—will be achieved.

Again and again the statesmen of the Western Allies have said that no agreement signed by the present rulers of Communist Russia or China is worth the paper it is written on. Just why, when all the other agreements have been flagrantly violated, a gangster government should suddenly be trusted to obey the most important self-restriction of all times that would be imposed is a mystery known only to the masters of psychological warfare. But nonetheless they think it is worth while to press the subject lest the other side garner all the advantage of "peace mongering" as opposed to "war mongering."

Realistically there is nothing

likely to come out of the "disarmament" debate because the principals on the side of the Western Allies refuse to come to grips with the basic reason why there is a war cloud on the horizon almost constantly in this epoch of history. It's because the free world cannot trust the rulers of the slave world. It's because the oppressed peoples have no voice in choosing their own government and are at the mercy of dictatorships.

Also as long as these dictatorships continue to be given recognition by the free world, little encouragement is given to the enslaved peoples to rise up against their rulers.

No Democracy Safe

No democracy today is safe because it is subject to attack from within and without by the forces of Communist imperialism.

Until the peoples now behind the "iron curtain" are free there can be neither reduction of armament nor disarmament. The proponents of limiting armament have the cart before the horse.

The peoples in the free world unfortunately are not aware of the insurmountable obstacles which at present bar the way to peace. Governments and parliaments nevertheless still feel it is desirable to hold forth the hope of "disarmament." Elections are won that way and statesmen stay in power by constantly keeping up the hopes of the people that no stone is being left unturned to attain peace.

But the peoples generally are being misled in the sense that they are not being told the truth about the whole problem. Thus, in many a country today, including some

New Drug Reported To Be Good Remedy For Hiccups

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Hiccups are of medical importance only when they persist. The new drug, chlorpromazine, is reported to be an excellent remedy. It was tried on 50 patients, and a positive response was noted in all but four. Five enjoyed relief lasting six hours but hiccups returned and no longer responded to the medication. If the first encouraging results are substantiated, hiccups will lose what little standing they now have.

Every family has its own favorite maneuver, which works in due course of time. Taking a drink of water or holding the breath to the count of 10 are the most popular relief measures. The inhalation of carbon dioxide by breathing into a paper bag until lightheadedness intervenes often proves successful.

When the usual bag of tricks has been exhausted, the physician applies pressure on the nerves in the neck, in the hope of breaking the reflex. Finger pressure on the closed lids has the same effect. If this fails, forced vomiting or washing out the stomach to remove the irritant may be recommended.

Drug treatment includes atropine, scopolamine, quinine, bromide, and numerous sedatives and antispasmodics. Occasionally, a general anesthetic is required and, as a last resort, the nerves leading to the diaphragm are severed. Time will tell whether these procedures will be supplanted by chlorpromazine.

The disorder is well named because the word describes the noise created by the abnormality. The sound comes from a breath that is terminated suddenly by closure of the valve at the head of the windpipe. More technically, it is produced by spasm of the diaphragm. The phrenic nerve enters the picture because it is along this pathway that impulses travel from brain to diaphragm.

Hiccupping is common in children, particularly during infancy, when the tyke is fed too rapidly and swallows air. Hiccups are less likely to occur if the baby is held up after eating so that he can burp.

The disturbance is prone to appear in a variety of gastrointestinal disorders such as acute stomatitis, pancreatitis, and intestinal obstruction as well as in strangulated hernia and severe kidney, liver, and brain disease. Direct irritation of the diaphragm as a result of pleurisy or abscess formation may lead to troublesome hiccups. A toxic condition, such as uremia, does the same.

Persistent hiccups are serious because they exhaust the patient's

President Eisenhower Surpasses FDR In Ability To Keep Congress In Line

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — They used to talk about a rubber-stamp Congress in Roosevelt's day, but nothing in FDR's day ever equalled the clocklike efficiency with which Eisenhower forces now whip GOP senators into line on important votes.

Not only is the Eisenhower machine efficient when it comes to Republican senators, but even with some Democrats. It is, of course, important that a president keep his Congress in line. So let's see how the machinery works.

The technique is chiefly one of getting on the long-distance telephone from the White House to key political backers or contributors in the senators' states or the congressmen's districts. Take, for instance, what happened during the battle over taxes.

To win, Republican leaders needed almost every GOP senator, plus a few Democrats. So here is what happened:

Sherman Adams, assistant president, got on the telephone to Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, a Dixiecrat Democrat who voted for Ike. Adams asked Kennon to contact other governors to pressure their own congressmen; also to pressure Senator Ellender of Louisiana, a Democrat.

Kennon knew where some of the big campaign contributions were made in Ellender's recent re-election campaign. In the end Ellender found himself, a life-long Democrat, voting with the Republicans.

His sudden conversion was unexpected, for Ellender claims he's a great defender of the break to the little taxpayer. But though Senate leaders Lyndon Johnson and Earle Clements spent hours plead-quarters in our own land, they still talk legalisms — that might makes right. This is the argument being used by many so-called "liberals" who propose that Red China be recognized or that the sell-out of Polad at Yalta be forgotten and considered water over the dam.

Way To Tragic Climax

The millions of persons behind the "iron curtain" who hope for emancipation some day are not encouraged when they read that expediency and "practicality" are being taught in the Western world as the way out of every dilemma created by the Communists. The furor about China's off-shore islands—Quemoy and the Matsus—is a case in point. Like the constant talk of "two Chinas," the argument is always for retreat and a "cease fire" that means surrender. It is little realized that this is the way to a tragic climax from which there can be no retreat—an assault by the aggressor who misconstrues pacific intentions for weakness.

The United Nations committees talk "disarmament." International conferences are being held to advance the cause of "disarmament." The military leaders know it's just talk because they know better than anybody else how impractical it is to draw a line today between "conventional" and "unconventional" weapons and how improbable it is that any nation will forfeit a substantial part of its military strength when the potential enemy cannot be trusted. That's why "disarmament" is still a myth of the times and will become a reality only when free governments exist everywhere—and when the people and not one-man governments are entrusted with the power to decide whether to go to war. Then and then only can armament be safely reduced on all sides.

strength. When they develop during the course of a serious illness the existing condition is aggravated and severe depression may ensue. No wonder the medical profession is always on the lookout for a good remedy.

ing with their colleague from Louisiana, Ellender voted against his own party and with the big oil companies and Dixiecrat Governor Kennon. (He has five and a half years before he has to face the little voters who elected him.)

Joe Comes To Heel
Another senator who was wavering was Joe McCarthy. Joe is so sore at the Eisenhower administration that he will vote against on anything that will hurt — especially if it will also help him back home.

However, it took just one phone call from Washington to change Joe. That call went to Tom Coleman, big wheel of the Republican party in Wisconsin. Coleman has saved McCarthy politically more than once and may have to save him again.

So Tom called Joe and Joe came to heel. He voted with the man he hates—Eisenhower.

Another Republican who planned to vote for the $20 tax cut was hard-working Milton Young of North Dakota, whose farm voters are Republican in name but lean heavily toward liberal Democratic policies. The minute it became known Young was going to desert GOP ranks, however, the pressure was turned on from Washington.

Young has had generous support from some of the big grain companies, and the final tally found him voting against the tax interest of the little taxpayer in North Dakota.

Humphrey Jumps
Most significant of all was the way the Ike machine worked on kindly Senator George of Georgia, a big wheel on the Finance Committee and a man with tax prestige in the U. S. Senate.

Last summer George himself proposed to increase personal exemption for dependents from $600 to $800, with an increase up to $1,000 later. This would have cost the Treasury $4,200,000,000 the first year, plus more if the $1,000 went in later.

The $20 tax cut, on the other hand, would have cost the Treasury only $2,300,000,000. Furthermore, Senate Democrats had patched up a compromise whereby most of this was made up by plugging other tax loopholes.

Senator George himself sat in on the conferences by which this compromise was worked out. In fact he suggested some of the most important moves, one of them being the extension of excise and corporation taxes six months beyond the period proposed by the Treasury. There was every indication, as George talked to his colleagues, that he would vote for the compromise that he helped to formulate.

But on Saturday certain details of the compromise leaked to the press. It also leaked that George had participated in the conference. This leak, later traced to the assistant of Senator Smathers of Florida, was the Democrats' greatest mistake. It was a two-fold mistake, first because it tipped off GOP leaders that they had lost Senator George, second because the leak mistakenly gave Smathers credit for certain parts of the compromise when credit really belonged to George. (Smathers had nothing to do with the news leak, however.)

Coca-Cola Spurts
At any rate, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey immediately jumped into action. Next day, Sunday, Bob Woodruff, head of the giant Coca-Cola Company, suddenly came to Washington. He had Sunday lunch with Senator George.

Bob Woodruff usually spends his time in New York or Sea Island, Ga. He does not come to Washington much on Sunday. He also golf's with Ike at Augusta and helped promote the Augusta cottage for the President. Nominally a Democrat, he is one of Ike's good friends, and one of the heaviest and most consistent backers of Senator George.

After that Sunday luncheon, Senator George of Georgia deserted his fellow Democrats and went over to the Republicans.

NOTE—Another Democrat who voted Republican on the tax bill was soft-spoken Sen. Spessard Holland of Florida. The Florida Dupont interests maintain a special lobby in the Carlton Hotel to influence senators and congressmen, but they didn't really work on Holland. He generally votes Republican anyway.

Keeping An Army Busy

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON
The administration is now at long last asking itself seriously whether it is really such a brilliant idea to reduce American ground strength by 30 per cent, to a million men. But there is also another question which ought to be asked—why do we get less than 20 divisions out of a million men, when the Russians get more than 45?

During the last war, this reporter developed a theory which has a bearing on this question, and which may be worth repeating, for what it is worth. The theory is that the greatest problem for any army, aside from fighting, is what to do with trained troops when they are not fighting, which is most of the time. The whole character of an army is determined by the way this problem is solved.

Take the British army, in which this reporter served during the course of an unheroic but peculiar military career. Anyone who knows the British army will recall the following familiar exchange:

An End In Itself

Captain: "I say, Sergeant Major, what on earth will we do with the troops today?"

Sergeant Major: "How about a spot of square-bashin', sir?"

Captain: "I say, splendid idea. Lay it on, Sergeant Major."

Square-bashin', or drill, is the British army's way of solving the problem. British drill has no relation at all to war. It is an end in itself, a kind of military ballet, beautiful to watch when well done, infinitely time-consuming.

When an American soldier receives the order, "about turn" he turns around in the way the human body was designed to turn. Not so the British soldier. He must execute six separate and difficult movements of his feet, plus added movements of his arms, and he must be able to do so at various speeds, with varying degrees of stomping.

Moreover, just to be sure that the absolute maximum of time is wasted on drill, the British have devised orders fiendishly calculated to entrap the unwary (this reporter was caught every time). For example: "Platoon will ADVANCE in columns of three. To the REAR, march." Or: "Company will move to the RIGHT in columns of three. LEFT turn."

No Positive Harm

With the help of this sort of booby trap, an experienced British drill master can take up an entire afternoon simply displaying his vocabulary. And thus the problem of what to do with the troops is solved. The solution has no more military value than the ballet, but it does no positive harm.

For reasons hidden in the mists of time and the mysteries of national temperament, the American army has found an entirely different solution to the same problem. The American army's solution is the typewriter.

When this reporter, at the front in Italy, was given a chance to transfer to the American army, his British colonel gave him the customary "chitty"—a handwritten note, torn out of the colonel's notebook, authorizing the bearer to "go to Algiers to join the American army." When the American army asked for "orders," the chitty was produced. It was regarded as a sort of horrible joke throughout the American army, and this reporter was "out of channels" from the very start.

In the American army an order is not an order until it has been typed in innumerable faultless copies, validated at headquarters, perhaps even in Washington, signed, stamped, processed, and heaven knows what else. Any American soldier—as the hearings in the case of the celebrated Major Peers served to recall — proceeds through the army in a vast suffocating sea of documents.

Saved By VOVO

This is unquestionably a brilliant solution to the problem of keeping soldiers busy. In our army the number of man hours daily devoted to composing orders or other documents, and typing or mimeographing or printing them, and signing and stamping and distributing and processing and filing them, and even reading them, is absolutely astronomical. There are those who swear that in the last war the system would have stopped the American army dead in its tracks, before a shot was fired, if the brilliant device of VOVO—"Verbal Orders of the Commanding Officer"—had not been invented in the nick of time.

It is hard to see how any sensible man can disagree with Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, when he argues that this is no time to be cutting American ground strength. Even so, maybe Gen. Ridgway ought to try a revolutionary experiment—an absolute ban on typewriters, at least below the division level. After all, wars have been fought and won with absolutely no typewriters at all—and by American armies.

Tactical Vs. Strategic Weapons Of Warfare

This country is on record as reserving the right to use atomic weapons as simply another category of weapons in its arsenal. Sly Soviet efforts to get America and the Western alliance to renounce all use of nuclear weapons have met with sensible refusal in the absence of any certainty that Russia would carry out her side of the bargain. After all, a deadly weapon is a deadly weapon, whether it is a rifle killing one man at a time or a hydrogen bomb killing multitudes.

Of late, however, some distinctions have been made between the atomic kinds. The other day Secretary of State Dulles made sure the Chinese Reds learned about the "tactical" nuclear missiles capable of pinpointing targets without spreading destruction far beyond. President Eisenhower's comment is that such weapons will be used in any major conflict the U. S. may be involved in.

Barring wars of the Korean magnitude, for example, these weapons—ballistic, guided, or whatever types—are rapidly losing their extraordinary character. When placed alongside such things as the megabombs (equivalent to millions of tons of TNT) they are picayunish. They will naturally take their place beside the non-atomic weapons. Gunnery schools are doubtless training men in the use of the atomic cannon as something which is just a far more powerful cannon than, say, a battleship's main armament.

It's one thing, of course, to talk about these tactical weapons for use at fairly close quarter with the enemy, and it's something else to talk about the long-range strategic weapons of devastation. But there again the tactical device is defense standby—able to go aloft and intercept an intercontinental guided missile of the future and destroy it far at sea.

These Days

The Claque

Whenever any administration in Washington takes a position on any subject, there is always a claque of distinguished names that is used for supporting applause. The same names often appeared in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations as now appear in the Eisenhower administration. For many of these men, it is always "God's in His heaven: All's right with the world."

Unfortunately for their reputations, all has not gone well, certainly with the universal desire for a restored and permanent peace. The war, which commenced in 1914, has managed in one form or another to continue to this day. The pessimists who questioned the virtue of secret diplomacy and deals without principle have been justified by the course of events.

And so, one comes across comments concerning the Yalta agreements which are not born out by the publication of the Yalta documents. For instance, Harry Truman, then vice president of the United States, said of them:

"We're going to look forward to the most glorious period in the history of the world."

Surely, the period between 1945 and 1955 has not been the most glorious in the history of the world from the standpoint of achievement of any kind.

James Byrnes, who was present at Yalta, said: "Every person should be proud of the role played by the President, especially in the discussion of economic and political problems. . . . I was tremendously impressed by the comradeship and genuine affection shown by the three leaders."

Elliott Roosevelt, in his book, "As He Saw It," gives us this:

"Harry Hopkins is my witness for the statement that the unity of Churchill, Stalin, and Roosevelt was a firmer and more tangible thing at Yalta than at Teheran. And it was evident that father's role, even more than at earlier conferences, was that of leader. It is not by chance that he sat in the middle, when the pictures were taken. He dominated Winston Churchill more completely than before; Joseph Stalin was likewise prepared to heed father's counsel, to accept father's solutions."

The evidence in the documents shows that Stalin was a master of the situation and that the only one of the three who raised his voice in favor of the morality of Western civilization was Winston Churchill in his remarkable defense of free elections.

Admiral William D. Leahy seems to have been one of the very few men in public life, particularly among those who were close to President Roosevelt, who suffered misgivings. He said:

"... The proposed peace seemed to me a frightening sowing of dragon's teeth that carried germs of an appalling war revenge at some time in the distant future. There was another compelling factor that kept me from sharing in the feeling of great hope, almost euphoria that prevailed in our American delegation as we left Yalta: as to the practicability of maintaining world peace through the United Nations. The essential agreement to destroy German militarism accepted at the conference would make Russia the dominant power in Europe."

We now know from the contents of the documents that Winston Churchill could not at Yalta have believed what he said at the time:

"The impression that I brought back from the Crimea and from all my other contacts is that Marshal Stalin and the other Soviet leaders wish to live in honorable friendship and democracy with the Western democracies. . . ."

This must have been diplomacy rather than statesmanship speaking, for if any man suffered from a squeeze play, it was Winston Churchill at Yalta who found himself an unwanted middleman. In fact, Roosevelt occasionally indicated to Stalin that the British were a peculiar people who liked to have their cake and eat it too, thus giving Stalin a broad hint that he and Churchill were not a unit.

I can only add, to be impartial, that the Republican senator from Vermont, Warren Austin, said of Yalta that "It's the answer to a prayer."

Conferences On Disarmament Today Are Just "Talk"

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — "Disarmament" is a magic word. It is supposed to be a synonym for "peace." It makes headlines right along whether it is based on a promise out of Moscow to explore the subject or whether it ensues from the appointment of a "minister for disarmament" as Harold Stassen has been called.

But the word "disarmament" is a misnomer. No government really intends to agree to discard all its weapons. What is being suggested for discussion is a "reduction" of armament with an agreement to prohibit the use of atomic or hydrogen bombs.

Actually the entire "disarmament" project today is a gimmick — respected alike by skillful strategists on both sides of the "cold war." It is used to give the impression that each sponsor of "disarmament" is anxious to avoid war and insure peace.

Enveloped In Illusion

But while "disarmament" or "limitation of armament" is a worthy goal, the whole idea is enveloped today in a major illusion. It is that merely by signing a document or a formula for reduction of armament the end result—peace and a release from tension—will be achieved.

Again and again the statesmen of the Western Allies have said that no agreement signed by the present rulers of Communist Russia or China is worth the paper it is written on. Just why, when all the other agreements have been flagrantly violated, a gangster government should suddenly be trusted to obey the most important self-restriction of all times that would be imposed is a mystery known only to the masters of psychological warfare. But nonetheless they think it is worth while to press the subject lest the other side garner all the advantage of "peace mongering" as opposed to "war mongering."

Realistically there is nothing

likely to come out of the "disarmament" debate because the principals on the side of the Western Allies refuse to come to grips with the basic reason why there is a war cloud on the horizon almost constantly in this epoch of history. It's because the free world cannot trust the rulers of the slave world. It's because the oppressed peoples have no voice in choosing their own government and are at the mercy of dictatorships. Also as long as these dictatorships continue to be given recognition by the free world, little encouragement is given to the enslaved peoples to rise up against their rulers.

No Democracy Safe

No democracy today is safe because it is subject to attack from within and without by the forces of Communist imperialism.

Until the peoples now behind the "iron curtain" are free there can be neither reduction of armament nor disarmament. The proponents of limiting armament have the cart before the horse.

The peoples in the free world unfortunately are not aware of the insurmountable obstacles which at present bar the way to peace. Governments and parliaments nevertheless still feel it is desirable to hold forth the hope of "disarmament." Elections are won that way and statesmen stay in power by constantly keeping up the hopes of the people that no stone is being left unturned to attain peace.

But the peoples generally are being misled in the sense that they are not being told the truth about the whole problem. Thus, in many a country today, including some quarters in our own land, they still talk legalisms — that might makes right. This is the argument being used by many so-called "liberals" who propose that Red China be recognized or that the sell-out of Poland at Yalta be forgotten and considered water over the dam.

Way To Tragic Climax

The millions of persons behind the "iron curtain" who hope for emancipation some day are not encouraged when they read that expediency and "practicality" are being taught in the Western world as the way out of every dilemma created by the Communists. The furor about China's off-shore islands—Quemoy and the Matsu—is a case in point. Like the constant talk of "two Chinas," the argument is always for retreat and a "cease fire" that means surrender. It is little realized that this is the way to a tragic climax from which there can be no retreat—an assault by the aggressor who misconstrues pacific intentions for weakness.

The United Nations committees talk "disarmament." International conferences are being held to advance the cause of "disarmament." The military leaders know it's just talk because they know better than anybody else how impractical it is to draw a line today between "conventional" and "unconventional" weapons and how improbable it is that any nation will forfeit a substantial part of its military strength when the potential enemy cannot be trusted. That's why "disarmament" is still a myth of the times and will become a reality only when free governments exist everywhere—and when the people and not one-man governments are entrusted with the power to decide whether to go to war. Then and then only can armament be safely reduced on all sides.

New Drug Reported To Be Good Remedy For Hiccups

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Hiccups are of medical importance only when they persist. The new drug, chlorpromazine, is reported to be an excellent remedy. It was tried on 50 patients, and a positive response was noted in all but four. Five enjoyed relief lasting six hours but hiccups returned and no longer responded to the medication. If the first encouraging results are substantiated, hiccups will lose what little standing they now have.

Every family has its own favorite maneuver, which works in due course of time. Taking a drink of water or holding the breath to the count of 10 are the most popular relief measures. The inhalation of carbon dioxide by breathing into a paper bag until lightheadedness intervenes often proves successful.

When the usual bag of tricks has been exhausted, the physician applies pressure on the nerves in the neck, in the hope of breaking the reflex. Finger pressure on the closed lids has the same effect. If this fails, forced vomiting or washing out the stomach to remove the irritant may be recommended.

Drug treatment includes atropine, scopolamine, quinine, bromide, and numerous sedatives and antispasmodics. Occasionally, a general anesthetic is required and, as a last resort, the nerves leading to the diaphragm are severed. Time will tell whether these procedures will be supplanted by chlorpromazine.

The disorder is well named because the word describes the noise created by the abnormality. The sound comes from a breath that is terminated suddenly by closure of the valve at the head of the windpipe. More technically, it is produced by spasm of the diaphragm. The phrenic nerve enters the picture because it is along this pathway that impulses travel from brain to diaphragm.

Hiccuping is common in children, particularly during infancy, when the tyke is fed too rapidly and swallows air. Hiccups are less likely to occur if the baby is held up after eating so that he can burp.

The disturbance is prone to appear in a variety of gastrointestinal disorders such as acute stomatitis, pancreatitis, and intestinal obstruction as well as in strangulated hernia and severe kidney, liver, and brain disease. Direct irritation of the diaphragm as a result of pleurisy or abscess formation may lead to troublesome hiccups. A toxic condition, such as uremia, does the same.

Persistent hiccups are serious because they exhaust the patient's strength. When they develop during the course of a serious illness the existing condition is aggravated and severe depression may ensue. No wonder the medical profession is always on the lookout for a good remedy.

R. T. writes: What is neuritis of the eighth nerve?

REPLY

The eighth, or acoustic, is the nerve of hearing. The structure may be damaged through injury or infection, particularly when fever exists. Steptomycin and, to a lesser extent, quinine and atropine, may have the same effect.

A "LOCAL"

The best example is the injection of a novocaine-like drug by the dentist to deaden the nerve to the tooth. This affords anesthesia of a local area without affecting the remainder of the body.

DRY NOSE

C. M. writes: What is atrophic rhinitis?

REPLY

A condition in which the nasal membranes become pale, pasty, and drier than normal as a result of repeated colds or the overuse of strong nose drops.

President Eisenhower Surpasses FDR In Ability To Keep Congress In Line

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — They used to talk about a rubber-stamp Congress in Roosevelt's day, but nothing in FDR's day ever equalled the clocklike efficiency with which Eisenhower forces now whip GOP senators into line on important votes.

Not only is the Eisenhower machine efficient when it comes to Republican senators, but even with some Democrats. It is, of course, important that a president keep his Congress in line. So let's see how the machinery works.

The technique is chiefly one of getting on the long-distance telephone from the White House to key political backers or contributors in the senators' states or the congressmen's districts. Take, for instance, what happened during the battle over taxes.

To win, Republican leaders needed almost every GOP senator, plus a few Democrats. So here is what happened:

Sherman Adams, assistant president, got on the telephone to Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, a Dixiecrat Democrat who voted for Ike. Adams asked Kennon to contact other governors to pressure their own congressmen; also to pressure Senator Ellender of Louisiana, a Democrat.

Kennon knew where some of the big campaign contributions were made in Ellender's recent re-election campaign. In the end Ellender found himself, a life-long Democrat, voting with the Republicans.

His sudden conversion was unexpected, for Ellender claims he's a great defender of the little man and the tax bill gave a break to the little taxpayer. But though Senate leaders Lyndon Johnson and Earle Clements spent hours pleading with their colleague from Louisiana, Ellender voted against his own party and with the big oil companies and Dixiecrat Governor Kennon. (He has five and a half years before he has to face the little voters who elected him.)

Joe Comes To Heel

Another senator who was wavering was Joe McCarthy. Joe is so sore at the Eisenhower administration that he will vote against them on anything that will hurt — especially if it will also help him back home.

However, it took just one phone call from Washington to change Joe. That call went to Tom Coleman, big wheel of the Republican party in Wisconsin. Coleman has saved McCarthy politically more than once and may have to save him again.

So Tom called Joe and Joe came to heel. He voted with the man he hates—Eisenhower.

Another Republican who planned to vote for the $20 tax cut was hard-working Milton Young of North Dakota, whose farm voters are Republican in name but lean heavily toward liberal Democratic policies. The minute it became known Young was going to desert GOP ranks, however, the pressure was turned on from Washington.

Young had had generous support from some of the big grain companies, and the final tally found him voting against the tax interest of the little taxpayer in North Dakota.

Humphrey Jumps

Most significant of all was the way the Ike machine worked on kindly Senator George of Georgia, a big wheel on the Finance Committee and a man with tax prestige in the U. S. Senate.

Last summer George himself proposed to increase personal exemption for dependents from $600 to $800, with an increase up to $1,000 later. This would have cost the Treasury $4,200,000,000 the first year, plus more if the $1,000 went in later.

The $20 tax cut, on the other hand, would have cost the Treasury only $2,300,000,000. Furthermore, Senate Democrats had patched up a compromise whereby most of this was made up by plugging other tax loopholes.

It was a two-fold mistake, first because it tipped off GOP leaders that they had lost Senator George, second because the leak mistakenly gave Smathers credit for certain parts of the compromise when credit really belonged to George. (Smathers had nothing to do with the news leak, however.)

Coca-Cola Spurts

At any rate, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey immediately jumped into action. Next day, Sunday, Bob Woodruff, head of the giant Coca-Cola Company, most important business in Atlanta, suddenly came to Washington. He had Sunday lunch with Senator George.

Bob Woodruff usually spends his time in New York or Sea Island, Ga. He does not come to Washington much on Sunday. A London, England, actress bought a "squirrel" coat priced at $56. It turned out to be a Russian ermine job valued at $2,000. It's a good bet that when the store found out its mistake the fur really flew.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The noted wit, Franklin P. Adams, once stopped conversation at his table in the Algonquin to hear better what a couple of celebrated comics were saying nearby. "Come, come," chided Clifton Fadiman. "No eavesdropping, Mr. A!"

"Okay," conceded F.P.A., "but what I'm doing is Adamsdropping."

A Palm Beach socialite, rich, well-connected — and loathsome, was bagged in marriage by a scheming young lady from the other side of the tracks. "For better or for worse," commented a waspish columnist, "she's landed him: hook, line, and stinker!"

Strange doings in a London zoo;

an otter was discovered watching over a baby weasel and a new-born beaver. The supervisor of the zoo made note of the event in his "department of otter confusion."

Kind Word For Referee

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bobby Timmons, coach of the University of Pittsburgh basketball team, had a kind word for the referee after his team upset highly favored University of Pennsylvania, 81-75, in overtime at Philadelphia.

Timmons said he became excited when he saw a Pitt man on the floor with three Penn men sprawled on top of him.

"I yelled to the referee that I didn't want any favors," he said, "but just an even break. He said, 'sit down and you'll get it.' I sat down and he was a man of his word. He put down two Penn stars on personal fouls and we went on to win in overtime."

Raupach's Collegians Beat Peskin's In Overtime, 76-75

McCall's Goal Wins Game; Hartman Scores Record 59 Points

Bill McCall's field goal with four seconds remaining in an overtime period enabled Raupach's Collegians, skippered by Joe Wolf, to come from behind and defeat Peskin's in a 76-75 thriller last night in the Senior Division of the tenth annual YMCA-Jaycees basketball tournament on the "Y" court.

Peskin's led at the close of the first three periods, 17-16, 44-37 and 61-53. In the final quarter, however, Dave Marple's two free throws tied it up at 67-67. Bob Pence's goal sent Peskin's to the fore at 69-67 and George McGregor's two foul goals knotted the count at 69-all and forced the game into an extra period.

The lead changed hands five times in the overtime stanza and Paul McGregor meshed two free throws to put Peskin's in front at 75-74 with 23 seconds left to play. Nineteen seconds later McCall connected for the basket that decided the battle.

Three Players Foul Out

Dave Marple, George McGregor and Bobby Wilson led the Collegians' attack with 19, 17 and 15 points. Paul McGregor of Peskin's, however, was the game's top scorer with 26 tallies, including 14 points at the foul line. John Diamond, Charles Fradiska and Don Crabtree of Peskin's fouled out.

Raupach's quint, composed of Frostburg State Teachers College varsity players, forged into the semi-final round where it will play the Cumberland Electric Seniors Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Hartman Gets 59 Points

Clyde Campbell and Jimmy Stinson with 14 points each paced the winners and Richard Garlitz contributed 10 points. The Miss Fits, a Frostburg quint, were led in scoring by Ray Whetstone and John Bond who garnered 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Senators Recall Steve Korchek

ORLANDO, Fla., March 28 (AP)—The Washington Senators recalled catcher Steve Korchek today less than 24 hours after he had been sent out on option to Chattanooga of the Southern Assn.

The change in signals was caused by a medical report on Ed Fitzgerald, the club's No. 1 catcher. Doctors reported a bone in the index finger of Fitzgerald's right hand was chipped and that he'll be out of action for a couple of weeks.

Meanwhile, Washington's scheduled game with the Boston Red Sox was rained out today and the club stepped up its efforts to try to land an acceptable major league shortstop.

Paddy DeMarco Wins

NEW YORK, March 28 (INS)—Former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco of Brooklyn, N. Y., won a ten-round split decision tonight over Libby Manzo, of Elmhurst, L. I., in the feature bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

DeMarco weighed 140 1/4 to 138 for Manzo.

New York Denies 5-Player Swap For A's Hurler

Portocarrero Traded To Yanks, Paper Says

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP)—The Sun-Times said tonight, in a story from Tampa, Fla., by its baseball writer, Edgar Munzel, that the New York Yankees will obtain pitcher Arnold Portocarrero from the Kansas City A's for five players.

Munzel said that the Yankees reportedly will give up "five of their superfluous players, among them first baseman Eddie Robinson, catcher Charley Silvera and pitcher Art Schallock."

"Rumor has it that the deal already is virtually concluded," said Munzel. "Announcement is being withheld to make it look as if the A's actually gave the other clubs in the league a chance to get the star hurler."

At St. Petersburg, Fla., General Manager George Weiss of the Yankees emphatically denied making any deal with Kansas City.

"Surely, we've been talking trades with several clubs in our league, but at no time was this kind of a deal discussed. At this time there is absolutely nothing on the fire with any club."

Virginia Decides To Drop Boxing

Follows In Footsteps Of Army, Maryland

CHARLOTTESVILLE, March 28 (AP)—The University of Virginia announced today its decision to drop boxing as an intercollegiate sport.

In so doing, Virginia follows in the footsteps of Army and Maryland, two fellow members of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Assn., which recently decided to drop boxing.

Virginia has had boxing teams for 34 years and once was a leading center of the collegiate fisticuff sport.

Athletic director Gus K. Tebell cited the difficulty in arranging a schedule inasmuch as a number of colleges have dropped boxing in recent years. He said the Cavaliers had traveled more than 5,000 miles for three of six meets this season. Tebell also pointed to waning student interest and a winless record the past two seasons. Virginia will continue boxing at the intramural level, he said.

In Eastern intercollegiate tournaments beginning in 1941, Virginia won 23 individual titles and one team championship in 1948. Four Cavaliers fought their way to national titles.

In the Flag Room of Maryland's historic State House, is the only flag carried both in the Revolution and in the War of 1812. The standard bearer was William Bachelor who took the flag home with him at the end of the Revolutionary War. Bachelor's son carried the famous flag in the War of 1812.

In 33 runnings of Laurel's Chesapeake Stakes, four of its winners have gone on to capture the Kentucky Derby—Whiskery, Cavalcade, War Admiral and Citation.

Pirates Beat St. Louis, 2-1

Ward Bats In Runs, Groat Stars Afield

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Preston Ward's two-run single in the third inning and Dick Groat's sensational catch in the ninth today gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in their exhibition game.

Ward dropped his single into center field, scoring Dick Littlefield and Tom Saffell. Groat made a leaping catch of Bill Sarni's line drive. It was the final out and choked off the Cardinal's tying run on second.

Pirate pitchers Littlefield and Roger Bowman held the Cardinals to seven hits. Littlefield gave up the only run in the first inning. The Pirates completed three double plays to help the pitching.

Photographer Drops Charges Against Casey

Sanders and Stengel Shake Hands, Make Up

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28 (AP)—The dove of peace soared over St. Petersburg today as Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees shook hands with the photographer whose shins he had been accused of kicking during an exhibition baseball game last week.

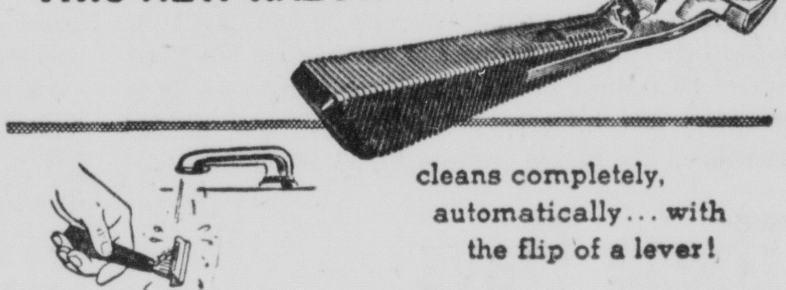

Assault charges were dropped by the photographer, B. I. (Sandy) Sanders of the St. Petersburg Independent, who accepted a statement by the Yankee manager on the incident which occurred during a game with the Brooklyn Dodgers Friday afternoon.

Handclaps restored friendly relations between the pair as the Yankees took the field for a grapefruit league game with the Baltimore Orioles which later was called on account of rain.

"I'm sure sorry that the rhubarb developed at Al Lang field the other day," Stengel declared in a statement issued by the Yankee front office.

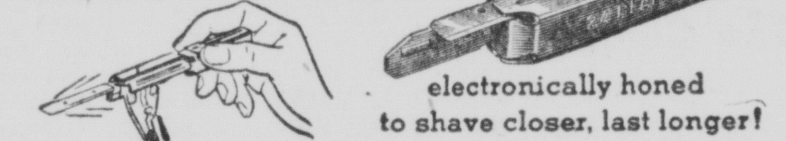

"I certainly didn't have anything against the photographer or against any photographer—I don't even know him. They tell me he's a nice fellow."

Four-Run Outburst Beats Gomez, 14-11

PHOENIX, March 28 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs pounded right-hander Ruben Gomez for four runs in the top of the tenth to stop the New York Giants 14-11 today.

The game went into extra innings when pinch-hitter Frank Baumholtz singled Ernie Banks home from second base with two out in the ninth to tie the score at 10-10.

After Jim Bolger had opened the tenth with a walk and had taken second on a sacrifice, rookie outfielder Ted Tappe singled to bring across the tie-breaking run. Singles by Solly Drake and Banks, an error by leftfielder Bob Lennon and a sacrifice fly by Vern Morgan accounted for the other runs in the inning.

Banks was the batting star for the Cubs, getting two homers, a double and two singles in six trips to the plate to lead a 15-hit attack.

The Giants have an off day tomorrow and break camp Wednesday morning.

Raupach's Collegians Beat Peskin's In Overtime, 76-75

McCall's Goal Wins Game; Hartman Scores Record 59 Points

Bill McCall's field goal with four seconds remaining in an overtime period enabled Raupach's Collegians, skippered by Joe Wolf, to come from behind and defeat Peskin's in a 76-75 thriller last night in the Senior Division of the tenth annual YMCA-Jaycees basketball tournament on the "Y" court.

Peskin's led at the close of the first three periods, 17-16, 44-37 and 61-53. In the final quarter, however, Dave Marple's two free throws tied it up at 67-67. Bob Peskin's goal sent Peskin's to the fore at 69-67 and George McGregor's two foul goals knotted the count at 69-all and forced the game into an extra period.

The lead changed hands five times in the overtime stanza and Paul McGregor meshed two free throws to put Peskin's in front at 75-74 with 23 seconds left to play. Nineteen seconds later McCall connected for the basket that decided the battle.

Three Players Foul Out

Dave Marple, George McGregor and Bobby Wilson led the Collegians' attack with 19, 17 and 15 points. Paul McGregor of Peskin's, however, was the game's top scorer with 26 tallies, including 14 points at the foul line. John Diamond, Charles Fradiska and Don Crabtree of Peskin's fouled out.

Raupach's quint, composed of Frostburg State Teachers College varsity players, forged into the semi-final round where it will play the Cumberland Electric Seniors Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Clyde Campbell and Jimmy Stinson with 14 points each paced the winners and Richard Garlitz contributed 10 points. The Miss Fits, a Frostburg quint, were led in scoring by Ray Whetstone and John Bond who garnered 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Senators Recall Steve Korchek

ORLANDO, Fla., March 28 (AP)—The Washington Senators recalled catcher Steve Korchek today less than 24 hours after he had been sent out on option to Chattanooga of the Southern Assn.

The change in signals was caused by a medical report on Ed Fitzgerald, the club's No. 1 catcher. Doctors reported a bone in the index finger of Fitzgerald's right hand was chipped and that he'll be out of action for a couple of weeks.

Meanwhile, Washington's scheduled game with the Boston Red Sox was rained out today and the club stepped up its efforts to try to land an acceptable major league shortstop.

New York Denies 5-Player Swap For A's Hurler

Portocarrero Traded To Yanks, Paper Says

CHICAGO, March 28 (AP)—The Sun-Times said tonight, in a story from Tampa, Fla., by its baseball writer, Edgar Munzel, that the New York Yankees will obtain pitcher Arnold Portocarrero from the Kansas City A's for five players.

Munzel said that the Yankees reportedly will give up "five of their superfluous players, among them first baseman Eddie Robinson, catcher Charley Silveira and pitcher Art Schallock."

"Rumor has it that the deal already is virtually concluded," said Munzel. "Announcement is being withheld to make it look as if the A's actually gave the other clubs in the league a chance to get the star hurler."

At St. Petersburg, Fla., General Manager George Weiss of the Yankees emphatically denied making any deal with Kansas City.

"Surely, we've been talking trades with several clubs in our league, but at no time was this kind of a deal discussed. At this time there is absolutely nothing on the fire with any club."

Virginia Decides To Drop Boxing

Follows In Footsteps Of Army, Maryland

CHARLOTTESVILLE, March 28 (AP)—The University of Virginia announced today its decision to drop boxing as an intercollegiate sport.

In so doing, Virginia follows in the footsteps of Army and Maryland, two fellow members of the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Assn., which recently decided to drop boxing.

Virginia has had boxing teams for 34 years and once was a leading center of the collegiate fisticuff sport.

Athletic director Gus K. Tebell cited the difficulty in arranging a schedule inasmuch as a number of colleges have dropped boxing in recent years. He said the Cavaliers had traveled more than 5,000 miles for three of six meets this season.

Tebell also pointed to waning student interest and a waning record the past two seasons. Virginia will continue boxing at the intramural level, he said.

In Eastern intercollegiate tournaments beginning in 1941, Virginia won 23 individual titles and one team championship in 1948. Four Cavaliers fought their way to national titles.

In the Flag Room of Maryland's historic State House, is the only flag carried both in the Revolution and in the War of 1812. The standard bearer was William Bachelor who took the flag home with him at the end of the Revolutionary War. Bachelor's son carried the famous flag in the War of 1812.

In 33 runnings of Laurel's Chesapeake Stakes, four of its winners have gone on to capture the Kentucky Derby—Whiskery, Cavalcade, War Admiral and Citation.

Pirates Beat St. Louis, 2-1

Ward Bats In Runs, Groat Stars Afield

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Preston Ward's two-run single in the third inning and Dick Groat's sensational catch in the ninth today gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in their exhibition game.

Ward dropped his single into center field, scoring Dick Littlefield and Tom Saffell. Groat made a leaping catch of Bill Sami's line drive. It was the final out and choked off the Cardinal's tying run on second.

Pirate pitchers Littlefield and Roger Bowman held the Cardinals to seven hits. Littlefield gave up the only run in the first inning. The Pirates completed three double plays to help the pitching.

Photographer Drops Charges Against Casey

Sanders And Stengel Shake Hands, Make Up

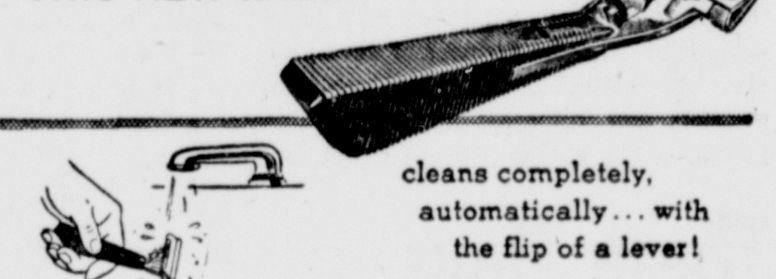

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28 (AP)—The dove of peace soared over St. Petersburg today as Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees shook hands with the photographer whose shins he had been accused of kicking during an exhibition baseball game last week.

Assault charges were dropped by the photographer, B. I. (Sandy) Sanders of the St. Petersburg Independent, who accepted a statement by the Yankee manager on the incident which occurred during a game with the Brooklyn Dodgers Friday afternoon.

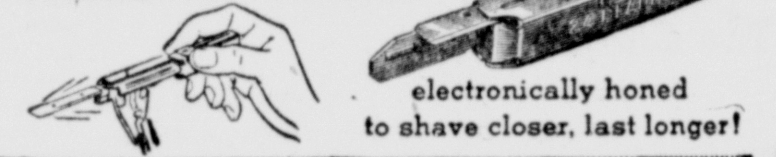

Handclaps restored friendly relations between the pair as the Yankees took the field for a grapefruit league game with the Baltimore Orioles which later was called on account of rain.

"I'm sure sorry that the rhabarb developed at Al Lang field the other day," Stengel declared in a statement issued by the Yankee front office. "I certainly didn't have anything against the photographer or against any photographer—I don't even know him. They tell me he's a nice fellow."

Ros Clag Defeats Nick Jimmie In Sixth Race At Bowie

Outsider Wins By Neck, Pays $19.40 Mutuel

Daily Double Nets $570.60; Hartack's Total Wins Now 34

BOWIE, Md., March 28 (AP)—Compans Stable's Ros Clag got up just in time to win the featured $4,000 sixth race here today, defeating the 1-5 favorite, Nick Jimmie, by a neck.

Ros Clag carried jockey Sammy Boulmetis to his second victory on the day's card, and returned a $19.40 for $2 win mutuel.

Nick Jimmie had made all the pace but even with vigorous encouragement by jockey Nick Shuk he faded in the stretch. Browse picked up third money. The six furlong distance was covered in 1:11 2-5 over the fast track.

The weather was crystal clear, but the temperatures were low, and the crowd was held to 9,544.

Longshot first-time starters edged the early races with victories. The daily double paid $570.60 on the winning 5 and 4 combination—Tos Company winning the first race with a $99.40 for $2 win mutuel, and Cuzzu winning the third at $83.60.

Boulmetis' first victory was aboard Wabash Moon at $20.40 for $2 in the fifth race.

Jockey Bill Hartack increased the number of his winning mounts to 340 with a claim of wins—on Becky's Shirt (10.40) in the second, and Black Teddy (3.40) in the fourth.

MIAMI, Fla., March 28 (AP)—Mrs. Charles Silvers' Hyphasis, one of the highest priced claims of the current Florida season, led throughout the $3,500 Palatka Purse that was contested before 13,660 spectators at Gulfstream Park today.

The eight-year-old gelding, purchased by his current owner for $15,000 at Tropical Park last December after being a stakes winner for the Belair Stud, defeated Mrs. H. L. Nathanson's Roman Stripe by a length and a quarter.

Roman Stripe was a neck to the fore of Spartan Jett, the disappointing 3 to 5 favorite, representing W. M. Peavey.

Hyphasis rewarded his supporters with a $13.80 mutuel after running the six furlongs in 1:10 4-5 over a track that had been slow earlier in the program but was fast by post time for the Palatka.

CINCINNATI, March 28 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson and Johnny Lombardo went through a light session of calisthenics today in finishing training for their 10-round bout tomorrow night at the Cincinnati Gardens.

Lombardo, whose home is in Mt. Carmel, Pa., is 25 years old, nine years younger than his ring-wise opponent.

It will be the third "comeback" match for Sugar Ray. He kayaked Joe Rindone in his first bout, then was decisively beaten by Tiger Jones.

Pitching Strong Point Of 1955 Phillies; Have Second Base, Right Field Problems

JIMMY WESTLAKE (First baseman) TED KAZANSKI (Infielder) SMOKY BURGESS (Catcher)

arm. I think, however, he probably came up too fast. He had his tonsils out during the winter and he is about nine pounds overweight. We are trying him at short and third also."

IN RIGHT FIELD, Smith pointed out, the battle is between Mel Clark and Clyde Schell, who split outfield duties last year, and three rookies, Bob Bowman, who hit 20 homers for Syracuse and batted .282 last year; Larry Novak, up from Terre Haute where he batted .311 and Stan Palys, who had a fine year at Schenectady, where he hit .316.

Novak has looked good in practice and Bowman has shown better defensively. Richie Ashburn and the power boy, Del Ennis, are the other regular gardeners. Johnny Wyrostek also is on hand.

Earl Torgeson at first and Granny Hamner and Willie Jones on the other side of the infield are the returning regulars. Torgie had an operation on his thumb and hasn't done too much in camp yet.

Two rookies, Mary Blaylock, who hit .303 and 22 homers for Syracuse last year and Jim Westlake, who had a good year with San Francisco, are the first base hopefuls seeking to unseat Torgie. Westlake is a brother of Wally Westlake of the Indians.

SIGNED as a free agent several weeks ago and really making a bid for a berth in the infield is Peanut Lowrey, former member of the Cubs and a veteran who can help out as a benchman f Smith.

The pitching staff is headed by the one-two punch, Roberts and Simmons, with Bob Miller, Bob Greenwood, Murry Dickson, Steve Riden and Herm Wehmeier back from last year. Roberts, of course, is a 20-game winner yearly and Simmons had 14-15 despite some arm aches.

"I want to see a little of the pitching staff first," commented Smith. "It looks good on paper, of course, but I still haven't seen it in action."

Among the top rookies slab hopefuls are two stars from the Syracuse team, John Meyers, a 15-11 winner and strikeout king in the league and Jim Owens, who had 17-9 and possesses a fine curve ball, according to the veteran coach and former catcher, Benny Bengough.

TOM CASAGRANGE, another hopeful of the past, is back again

Keyser To Get New Poultry Process Plant

Industry To Hire About 62 Persons

KEYSER — Ground was broken yesterday for a new industry in the Keyser area which is expected to get into production within six weeks.

The new firm, Keyser Poultry Inc., broke ground for a 150-foot square building on a three acre tract on Waxler Road, just beyond Keyser's municipal stone quarry at the city limits.

David Susman, who will move here from New York to manage the firm, said the first building to be constructed will be built of Homosote, a new plastic material which is fire and weather proof.

Susman explained that poultry will be processed at the plant for distribution in eastern metropolitan areas. Additional buildings will be erected as quickly as possible, Susman stated, explaining that he anticipates production to average 50,000 fowl daily, mostly turkeys.

The poultry firm will employ 62 persons as soon as it goes into operation, Susman said, adding that more will be employed as the operation expands.

An experienced operator in the poultry field, Susman has secured advance orders for his firm's output, and worked out shipping arrangements and other matters pertaining to transporting the poultry to metropolitan areas.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

At one time a woman who dyed her hair kept it a guarded secret. If it was found out, she was not considered a lady. Today that idea is as outmoded as objections to woman's suffrage. And so is the "dye" look past history.

Today it's in completely good taste for a woman to highlight the natural color of her tresses with the subtle changes she desires. Four out of every ten women in the U. S. color their hair . . . and the rest are hair-color conscious. Why not be radiant instead of drab?

There are so many wonderful and perfected shades that a woman choosing one to change, modify, or restore the color of her hair will receive the usual flattering compliments that come with any other successful cosmetic change.

Try Color On

Before you decide to go blonde or brunette (latest evidence that blondes are going brunette has been stirred up by Jane Russell's next film, "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes"), you may want a glimpse of what the change can do for you.

Some salons have "demi-wigs" to try on. They cover your hairline to let you see the "new you." It is reassuring, and it lets you know how certain shades go with — or contrast with — your skin, eyes, and general coloring. A woman past 40 must be careful that there isn't disharmony in hair and skin coloring.

A smart trick is to try a prepared temporary "color rinse" at home. There's a wide choice . . . at least a dozen major hair color classifications allow a woman to frame her face with new allure. These can be removed by a shampoo.

Many women use these mild rinses to cover up the aging evidence of faded mousey hair — or just to bring out their own color highlights. For it's usually best to play up the natural shade of your hair. Actually these products have three-way efficiency: they soften, condition, and highlight the hair. Most of the rinses contain lanolin which makes the hair softer and easier to manage and removes any soap film.

New are the tinted shampoos that come in convenient pressurized bottles (let's face it . . . we're living in an aerosol era). This at-home shampoo looks like appetizing whipped cream and bubbles its colored lather right to the head and leaves hair sparkling with color highlights after rinsing. Color may be removed and renewed with each shampooing.

Beauty Secret

There's an old tried and true beauty recipe of my grandmother's I would like to pass on to help you make the most of your "natural resources." It's a parsley rinse that's beneficial to all shades of hair and will add a beautiful highlight. In two quarts of cold water place a handful of washed parsley. Bring to boil. Boil for 5 minutes. Cool. Strain. Use as last rinse after shampooing.

Cord of Thanks
We take this means of publicly expressing sincere thanks to those of our friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the illness and following the death of our beloved husband and father, Erwin M. White, who was followed by the use of cars for the funeral, to those who sent floral tributes and to all others who in any manner rendered assistance.
Mrs. Mildred White and Sons.

In Memoriam
In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Mary A. Koonce, who departed 3 years ago, March 29th.
We do not forget you, nor do we intend. We think of you often, and will to the end.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be, but dear to our memory, Mother, you ever will be.
Sadly missed by son and daughter-in-law, George and Mary Koonce.

Market Winds Up Lower After Irregular Session

NEW YORK, March 28 (AP)—The stock market wavered irregularly today and then closed lower.

The session wasn't very inspiring. Demand was highly specialized. There were few mass movements.

Principal development was strength in railroads and airlines. At the close, however, only the railroads remained higher. Airlines ended mixed.

Changes either way were bounded by 3 points in key areas of the list. Only a few exceeded the range.

Lower, or mostly so, were the oils, coppers, steels, rubbers, aircrafts, electrical equipments, radio-televisions, and utilities.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 30 cents at $159.90. The industrial component declined $1.00 while railroads gained 70 cents, and utilities lost 30 cents.

Senate Approves Home Rule With String Attached

County Boards May Veto Incorporation

BULLETINS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 28 (P)—The House late tonight passed and sent to the Senate Gov. McKeldin's record 269-million dollar budget after a flurry of oratory that it had not been cut enough.

ANNAPOLIS, March 28 (P)—The House narrowly defeated tonight a move to let Maryland voters decide whether war veterans should be given a bonus financed by a lottery.

By LOU PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 28 (P)—The mechanics of setting up municipal home rule—already approved in principle by Maryland voters—were okayed by the State Senate today with a big string attached.

Before passing the bill over to the House, the senators voted overwhelmingly to give county commissioners power to veto the incorporation of new cities or towns.

The veto idea, sponsored by Senator Turnbull (D-Balto County), had provoked long debate last week but was carried by such a wide margin opponents did not bother to prolong the fight before today's final vote.

The home rule bill setting up the procedure to be followed in the incorporation of a new community, annexation of new territory by an established community, or the selling of municipal bonds was the highlight of an afternoon session beginning the last scheduled week of the 1955 Legislature.

Major committee actions in the afternoon included the start of Finance and Ways and Means Committee joint hearings on proposals to raise money for the record 269-million-dollar budget for next fiscal year.

The money committees began interviewing the State's fiscal authorities on the revenue plans less than three hours before the House was scheduled to take final action on the big budget submitted by Republican Gov. McKeldin.

One of the major money-raising programs, submitted by the governor, calls for raising the sales tax by 50 per cent, taxes on personal income by 50 per cent and on corporation income by 25 per cent. The Governor also proposed putting collection of income taxes on a payroll withholding basis.

The Democratic leadership under Turnbull and House Floor Leader Boone (D-Balto County) came up with an alternate plan under which the sales and income tax rates would remain the same, but which would apply the sales levy to more items. They would do this primarily by lowering the base from 51 cents to 14 and by applying the tax to certain classes of items now exempt.

Gas Drilling Bill Termed Hasty Act

Friend Says Measure Would Halt Monopoly

ANNAPOLIS, March 28 (P)—A bill to set up a new agency for the regulation of gas and oil drilling—effecting only Garrett County at present—was branded today as "hastily drawn by persons who don't know the complexity of the situation."

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, also called on the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee to set up the Garrett County Commissioners to administer the controls "and let them stew in their own juice."

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett), sponsor of the measure that would name the chairman of the geology department, the director of Bureau of Mines and the chairman of the Public Service Commission as the controlling body, said the measure was aimed at "keeping the big companies from getting a complete monopoly" in the Garrett County gas fields.

The measure has passed the Senate. Urges More Study John W. Avirett, an attorney for the Cumberland Allegheny Gas Co., asked the committee that the measure be referred to the Legislative Council for further study. He said it does not accomplish its purpose of protecting both the landowners and the gas drillers.

He said further: "We (the drillers) don't want to stew in any feud between a State agency (geology) and the people of Garrett County."

A bill allowing Singewald's department to set up gas regulations was passed in the 1953 General Assembly, but it contained a clause that the Garrett commissioners must approve the regulations. No rules were ever put into effect because a court later ruled unconstitutional the commissioners' power and the 1954 Legislature repealed the act.

Manges Testifies Singewald has been accused by Friend, who has leased land to drillers himself, of siding with the gas companies.

Opponents of the measure said the proposed bill would allow the new board to dictate where the companies could drill and they also objected to a clause that pipeline owners must purchase gas from anyone "within a reasonable distance."

Friend said this "consumers purchase" clause would prohibit the squeezing out of smaller operators by the larger companies who refuse to pipe their gas to market.

Earl E. Manges, Cumberland attorney who drew up the bill for Friend and the Garrett County Farm Bureau, said the bill probably would need "slight revision" but that it was a step in the right direction.

Cold Weather Hurts Budding Crop Of Fruit

Although freezing temperatures nipped some of Maryland's budding fruit crop, especially in the Cumberland area, heavy winds which caused extensive damage over the weekend died down yesterday.

In Garrett County where between three and four inches of new snow was reported Sunday, the weather cleared in the afternoon and all highways were reported clear last night by the State Roads Commission. The thermometer rose from about 10 degrees in the morning to 27 late yesterday.

The weatherman said things would continue to warm up today after the mercury dropped again somewhat last night. The cold, windy weather which buffeted Maryland was moving east toward the sea.

Consolidated Orchard, one of the largest in the Cumberland area, said about half the cherry and peach blossoms were damaged in its orchards southeast of Cumberland. Minor damage to fruit blossoms was also noted in Salisbury and Hancock.

No new windstorm damage was reported last night, highways throughout the tri-state area were reported in good condition with no ice or fog.

Swirling snows which caused several accidents in the Bedford and Somerset, Pa., region and hospitalized some 14 persons had stopped last night and temperatures were rising, Pennsylvania State Police said.

Fort Hill Octette To Entertain Lions

Lions Club will hear the Fort Hill High School Octette under the direction of Miss Annette Yates, at the weekly meeting on Wednesday, 12:15 p. m., at the Centra YMCA. Members of the octette are Jerry Robinette, Darrell Henry, Ralph Mahaney, Ronald Mears, Joan Luttrell, Evangeline Grim, Sharon Evangeline Grim, Sharon Baldwin, and Beverly Reynolds. Delores Rowley will be the accompanist for the group.

Returns Home Mrs. J. Thurston Boyd returned to her home, 501 Washington Street, after being a patient at Memorial Hospital.

County To Join In Mock H-Bomb Test In June

City's Warning Plan To Be Completed Soon

Allegany County's Civil Defense organizations are planning to cooperate to a maximum degree in a mock hydrogen bomb attack on 50 major cities in June.

William G. Barger, county CD director, said preliminary plans have been received here for the Civil Defense drills planned beginning June 15.

Barger said Cumberland's air raid warning system will be completed by the time the major test is made.

He said he and Arthur B. Gibson, Cumberland CD coordinator, met last week to plan the location of two additional sirens in the city.

He said a final decision on the location of the devices will be made soon, and orders given for their installation.

The additional sirens will provide the city with a top notch warning system, officials said. Included will be two 10-horsepower sirens, five two-horsepower sirens, the Ridgeley Fire Department siren and the Cumberland Brewing Company's whistle.

All of the sirens, officials said, will be actuated by controls located at Central Fire Company.

Barger pointed out that Ridgeley, which has recently set up its Civil Defense organization, will be asked to join in the big air raid drill.

He said every effort will be made to hold the exercises on a county-wide basis.

Advance warnings of the impending mock attacks will range from two hours up.

Washington, Baltimore and Pittsburgh are included in the lists of cities which will be hit theoretically by bombs packing the kick of 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

Interest Heavy In $2,400,000 City Bond Issue

50 Firms Request Financial Reports

The City of Cumberland has received over 50 requests for financial information since it advertised last week for bids on a $2,400,000 bond issue.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said he has forwarded copies of a condensed financial report to each of the investment firms which has indicated interest in the issue.

Bids on the bonds, the largest single issue to be sold by the Queen City, will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, April 5, at 10 a. m.

Included are $2,000,000 of Cumberland Sewage Disposal Plant Bonds, and $400,000 of Cumberland Flood Protection Bonds of 1949, Second Issue.

Gibson said the market for the bonds is expected to be good, since financial leaders point out the visible supply of bonds is not too great at the moment.

General municipal obligations, he reported, were selling for about 2.42 per cent last week.

This is higher than on three issues sold last year, when general obligations — a $350,000 Urban Development and $150,000 of Recreation bonds — sold for 2.25 per cent. A $150,000 Water Department issue, payable first from water revenues and then from general taxation if water revenues are insufficient, was sold for 1.34 per cent.

The sewage disposal bonds will have the same status as water bonds, since interest and principal will be paid from charges set by the city for sewage service, but carry the full faith and credit of the City of Cumberland, which must levy ad valorem taxes to pay bond charges in the event revenues prove insufficient in any one year.

Assessments Increase The report prepared by Gibson shows that city property had an assessed valuation of $73,533,359 in the 1953-54 fiscal year, up about $14 millions over the previous year, with assessed valuation about 60 per cent of present actual values.

The bonded debt on June 30 totaled $7,240,000, including $3,615,000 of general bonds and $3,625,000 of water bonds. These include $3,980,000 of term bonds, covered by a sinking fund of $2,653,555.98.

The report projected through 1958-59 the principal requirements for the funded debt.

The 1954-55 general property tax rate for each $1,000 of assessed valuation in the city includes state taxes of $5.67, county taxes of $18 and city taxes of $13.60 for a total of $32.167.

Checking The Watershed

Robert M. Beall, engineer in charge of the local office of the Geological Survey, is shown pointing out check points on the area streams, to his successor Ewell H. Mohler of Tuxedo, Md. Beall has been transferred to the Washington offices and will report there to help expedite the work of the College Park District. Mohler, graduate of the University of Maryland in 1951, as a civil engineer, will assume his duties here April 1, when Beall leaves.

Geological Survey Engineer Transferred To Washington

Ewell H. Mohler of Tuxedo, Md., has been assigned here as engineer in charge of the local office of the Geological Survey, a part of the Department of the Interior, to succeed Robert M. Beall, 41 Cumberland Street, who is being moved to Washington.

A graduate of the University of Maryland in 1951, Mohler has been with the Geological Survey since then, except for a ten-month period when he was doing engineering work for the Suburban Sanitary Commission in Washington.

Mohler is married, has two children, a son and daughter, ages two and a half years and five months. He will assume his new duties here officially April 1, when Beall leaves, and has already established his residence in LaVale.

Beall has been here over two years and came here from Boston, Mass. He has now been assigned to the Washington office to the Annual Reports Section, where he will review the annual stream flow reports and complete data needed for permanent records. Since he is familiar with the work and has been doing it in the field, his supervisors decided he was needed to help expedite the work of the College Park District, to which he is now assigned.

The local station, with headquarters in the Post Office building is charged with the responsibility of keeping regular and daily records of streamflow and stream conditions in this area. Check points or reading stations are located eastward to Hancock, westward to Oakland, as far as Kittimill on the North Branch of the Potomac River, on Wills Creek, Everts Creek, Big Piney Run, on the Casselman River at Grantsville, and the Youghiogheny at Oakland and Friendsville.

This station is a little unusual, since it checks watersheds which flow in two directions. Beall noted yesterday that his office checks streamflow of streams which enter the Ohio Basin on the one side, and streams which eventually reach the Atlantic on the other side. Meadow Mountain is considered the dividing line.

This information has been compiled on a near-nationwide basis for the past quarter century. It is invaluable as an aid to many other governmental agencies, local governments, weather observers, industry, engineers and the general public.

The information is available for those working on flood control problems, studies of stream pollution, water supply systems, bridge design industrial use and expansion and in many other fields.

In addition to the engineer in charge at the local district office, other personnel include Miss Mary Sheetz, secretary, and Brooke Atkinson, engineering aide, both of this city. During the summer months, the office staff is augmented by one or more student trainees from the Engineering School at College Park.

Lashley To Serve With National Group

Lynn C. Lashley, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been appointed as a member of the committee on public supervision and examination of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment has been announced by J. Howard Edgerton, Los Angeles, Calif., president of the league, which is the 63-year old nationwide trade organization of the savings and loan business and represents more than 4,200 savings associations and co-operative banks.

The committee on public supervision and examination studies methods and procedures for improving supervision of savings institutions by public agencies and develops information on savings association operations helpful to public supervisory bodies to maintain effective service to the community's thrift-minded and home-owning families.

Also scheduled to be discussed is the forthcoming 4-H Roundup planned at Fort Hill High School gymnasium on April 15. President of the federation is Jerry Lancaster of LaVale.

4-H Federation Elects Tonight

An election of officers will be conducted today at 7:30 p. m. during a meeting of the Boys 4-H Club Federation at the office of the County Agent in the Court House building.

Also scheduled to be discussed is the forthcoming 4-H Roundup planned at Fort Hill High School gymnasium on April 15. President of the federation is Jerry Lancaster of LaVale.

Girl Critically Injured When Struck By Auto

Fourth Young Pedestrian Hurt

For the fourth time in the past two weeks an Allegany County child—this time a four-year-old girl—was struck by an automobile yesterday.

Georgette Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cline, 877 Maryland Avenue, was reported still in critical condition but improving by Memorial Hospital attaches last night.

Omer L. Miller, 30, of 7 Grand Avenue, driver of the automobile which struck the little girl about 1 p. m. yesterday on Maryland Avenue, was questioned in the State's Attorney's office and released.

Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty said Miller told him the child darted from between two parked cars in the 900-block on Maryland Avenue.

The driver said he swerved his car but the right front fender struck the little girl, knocking her to the ground. Miller, with the aid of a taxicab driver who was in the vicinity, took the child to Memorial Hospital where she was admitted suffering with possible fractured skull, broken femur, severe lacerations of head and other injuries.

Miller told authorities he was visiting his mother at 817 Maryland Avenue and had just left, driving south toward Virginia Avenue when the accident occurred.

Getty said no charges were preferred against Miller pending the outcome of the little girl's injuries.

On March 15 John B. Scott, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Scott was hit by a car on South Street and was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore following surgery here at Memorial Hospital.

Timothy O'Rourke, 7, of Frostburg, was hit but not badly injured when he ran in front of a car on Main Street in Frostburg, March 22.

Last Thursday, March 24, George Lowery Jr., 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lowery Sr., 417 Holland Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital after being struck by a car near his home. He is reported improved there by hospital attendants.

Meeting Is Set On Traffic Plan

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan announced a meeting will be held in City Hall at 4 p. m. to discuss the traffic control system for the new interstate bridge at Riverside Park.

Also attending will be Police Chief R. E. Flynn, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and Lawrence C. Cessna, representing the Potomac Edison Company.

Commissioner Keegan said he has received recommendations of the Bureau of Public Roads for the approach which calls for three traffic lights, including one which would allow vehicles traveling on Greene Street toward the Dingle to proceed on red lights with caution.

He said the plan, which will be studied in detail today, "looks OK."

He said he and Nuzum are also studying a plan designed to facilitate the movement of Route 40 and 220 traffic through Cumberland.

The plan will be forwarded to George N. Lewis, traffic director of the State Roads Commission.

Luncheon Is Planned

The Ruth Bible Class of Central Methodist Church, South George Street, will sponsor a ham luncheon on Wednesday from 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The public is invited to attend.

Police Probe Cresaptown School Entry

State Police last night reported thieves had broken into the Cresaptown Junior High School sometime Saturday night or Sunday causing unestimated damage in the building and stealing a small amount of cash from the desks of the teachers.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator, said the culprits entered the building by breaking the latch on a window into the shop room.

They ransacked the shop room, using tools obtained there to break into other rooms in the building. Doors into the classrooms, cafeteria, storeroom were forced, desks were broken into, and quantities of food were scattered throughout the building.

The latest burglary continued a series which began several weeks ago. The Cresaptown Theatre was entered three times and the Cresaptown Hardware Store was broken into another time, Baker said.

Rural Telephone Interim Changes Are Being Made

Many Will Receive Temporary Numbers

C. and P. Telephone Company crews last week began reorganizing rural telephone service in this area in preparation for the coming conversion to dial operation.

C. Walter Haschert, local manager, said six weeks has been allocated for the rural interim change program.

Affected will be some 1,100 rural telephone stations. Some 800 of these customers will receive "interim" numbers which they will use until their Parkview numbers become effective with the switch-over to dial operation early this fall.

At present, customers on eight party rural lines hear as high as eight rings. Under the dial system, they will hear either one or two rings, and one of the rings will be their own.

Will Reduce Rings Crews last Wednesday began visiting homes served by rural lines, placing dials on telephones and, when necessary, rearranging the customer's position on the line in order to reduce the rings to either one or two.

Some 800 of the rural customers must be given temporary, or interim numbers, in order to provide for the reduction in the number of rings.

The company has set up a system which will make the change a painless one for the customers. The system works like this:

A rural customer's number is changed, say, from 9900-J-5 to 9900-W-1.

Refers To Bulletin When an operator gets a request for 9900-J-5, she notifies the customer who is calling that the number has been changed to 9900-W-1, and automatically puts through the call to the new number.

She is able to do this by referring to an overhead bulletin which lists the changed numbers as they are made.

Haschert said Mrs. Helen Johnson, chief operator, reports the overhead bulletins are working smoothly.

For rural customers, the dial system will have a number of important advantages, since in addition to the reduction in the number of rings, customers will be able to keep their own numbers in case they move.

Driver Gets 60 Days On Motor Violations

Edward A. Stroh Jr., Sparks, Md., was committed to Allegany County Jail for 60 days in default of $200 in fines imposed against him in Trial Magistrates Court, on two motor vehicle violation charges.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick fined Stroh $100 each on charges of driving an automobile on a suspended license and exceeding 70 miles per hour on Route 220 near Dawson.

Trooper L. D. Cook of the Maryland State Police arrested Stroh after chasing him from Dawson across the state line into West Virginia. Stroh was picked up in Keyser.

Area Dental Society Will Meet April 6

The Allegany-Garrett Dental Society will meet April 6 at 6:30 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, according to Dr. Karl W. Kolb, secretary.

The dinner meeting will be followed by a talk by H. V. Deeley, Baltimore, on practice management.

Amphitheatre Seating Being Built At Park

Golden Says Work Is Half Finished

During the past winter workmen at Constitution Park have been building new benches for the amphitheatre and about half of them have been completed with little extra cost to the city, Robert R. Golden, park superintendent, said last night.

Golden said he noted that the idea of improving the seating in the park, along with installing a public address system and improving the lighting, was discussed at a meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Unfortunately, he observed, Commissioner of Streets and Public Property William H. Buchholz was absent from the meeting because of an abscessed tooth, or he could have informed the council of the work already done and the progress made.

Cooperated With Crew

Golden said that some months ago, Buchholz cooperated with the park crew and set up and equipped a workshop for them, so work of this nature can be carried on in bad weather.

The park superintendent said the indoor workshop has made it possible to organize the work at the park, so that the best use can be made of time in both good and bad weather. Golden said used lumber has been obtained from various city jobs and projects, and this material has been dressed and used to build "very comfortable park benches."

He avowed that about half the amphitheatre seats can be replaced this season, and the other half by next season.

As to the lighting at the amphitheatre, Golden said Buchholz has already ordered a survey on this problem and the lighting is being improved.

System Installed

On the question of a public address system, Golden said the city will not need to procure one, as there is already one installed for the amphitheatre.

At Council yesterday, Joseph K. Trenton, president of the Cumberland Concert Band, asked that these three improvements be made, as the band is considering more concerts at the park this summer. He noted that these concerts attracted crowds of 2,000 to 3,000 at each concert last year.

At yesterday's meeting the Council, in the absence of the street and public commissioner, referred the proposals of the band president to Commissioner Buchholz, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, and Trenton for a study and report.

In another action, council released Max Naezelrod and Frank J. Brown Jr., from terms of a contract for the razing of 16 houses on Water Street in connection with the flood control project.

Terms of the razing contract have been completed by the two men, it was said.

Mayor Roy W. Eves commended both, saying they had paid the city $800 for the removal job while the only other bid had been from an out-of-town concern which wanted the city to pay it for the work.

Council approved a request from Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, for the city to take an ad in the state convention program. The state session will be held here May 21-22.

Man Is Injured In Auto Mishap

Frank J. Noonan, 48, RFD 6, Bowling Green, was injured yesterday about 6:30 p. m. when his car careened off the highway near Roberts Place and crashed into a telephone pole.

Trooper L. D. Cook, Maryland State Police, who investigated the mishap, said Noonan was traveling alone south on Route 220 when his car struck a curb as it rounded a slight curve.

The automobile's right rear tire blew out causing it to swerve off the highway into the telephone pole, Cook said. The driver was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

Hospital attaches said Noonan complained of pains of the chest right jaw, arm and knee and had abrasions of the right eye, elbow and leg X-rays will be taken today to determine the extent of the head and chest injuries.

Trooper Cook indicated state motor vehicle charges will be withheld pending the outcome of Noonan's injuries.

Senate Approves Home Rule With String Attached

County Boards May Veto Incorporation

BULLETINS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 28 (AP)—The House late tonight passed and sent to the Senate Gov. McKeldin's record 269-million dollar budget after a flurry of oratory that it had not been cut enough.

ANNAPOLIS, March 28 (AP)—The House narrowly defeated tonight a move to let Maryland voters decide whether war veterans should be given a bonus financed by a lottery.

By LOU PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 28 (AP)—The mechanics of setting up municipal home rule—already approved in principle by Maryland voters—were okayed by the State Senate today with a big string attached.

Before passing the bill over to the House, the senators voted overwhelmingly to give county commissioners power to veto the incorporation of new cities or towns.

The veto idea, sponsored by Senator Turnbull (D-Balto County), had provoked long debate last week but was carried by such a wide margin opponents did not bother to prolong the fight before today's final vote.

The home rule bill setting up the procedure to be followed in the incorporation of a new community, annexation of new territory by an established community, or the selling of municipal bonds was the highlight of an afternoon session beginning the last scheduled week of the 1955 Legislature.

Major committee actions in the afternoon included the start of Finance and Ways and Means Committee joint hearings on proposals to raise money for the record 269-million-dollar budget for next fiscal year.

The money committees began interviewing the State's fiscal authorities on the revenue plans less than three hours before the House was scheduled to take final action on the big budget submitted by Republican Gov. McKeldin.

One of the major money-raising programs, submitted by the governor, calls for raising the sales tax by 50 per cent, taxes on personal income by 50 per cent and on corporation income by 25 per cent. The Governor also proposed putting collection of income taxes on a payroll withholding basis.

The Democratic leadership under Turnbull and House Floor Leader Boone (D-Balto County) came up with an alternate plan under which the sales and income tax rates would remain the same, but which would apply the sales levy to more items. They would do this primarily by lowering the base from 51 cents to 14 and by applying the tax to certain classes of items now exempt.

Mrs. Little Dies In Hospital Here

Mrs. Eugenia S. Little, 84, of 417 Washington Street, died at 4:03 p. m. yesterday in Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for the past two months.

She had been in failing health for several years. A native of Missouri, she was reared in Clinton, Iowa, and came to Cumberland about 1894 as the bride of the late Robert W. Little, who headed the S. T. Little Jewelry firm founded by his father, until his death in 1933.

Mrs. Little was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, where she was a former reader and Sunday School teacher. She was also a member of the Woman's Civic Club, the YMCA Auxiliary and a former member of LaVale Homemakers Club.

She served many years as a director of the S. T. Little Jewelry Company. One daughter, Janet M. Little, preceded her in death.

She is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Cara Little Ebert, with whom she resided, three grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where a service will be conducted at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow. Monroe Harris, member of the First Church of Christ Scientists, will be in charge.

Interment will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

The Weather

Heavy winds which buffeted the tri-state area over the weekend were quieter yesterday and sunny weather greeted local residents. Temperatures rose somewhat and the high for the day was recorded at 37 degrees at Constitution Park. Low was noted at 20 and at 8 p. m. the mercury registered 32 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 32 per cent. Forecast for today is cloudy and somewhat warmer.

Gas Drilling Bill Termed Hasty Act

Friend Says Measure Would Halt Monopoly

ANNAPOLIS, March 28 (AP)—A bill to set up a new agency for the regulation of gas and oil drilling—effecting only Garrett County at present—was branded today as "hastily drawn by persons who don't know the complexity of the situation."

Dr. Joseph T. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, also called on the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee to set up the Garrett County Commissioners to administer the controls "and let them stew in their own juice."

Sen. Friend (R-Garrett), sponsor of the measure that would name the chairman of the geology department, the director of Bureau of Mines and the chairman of the Public Service Commission as the controlling body, said the measure was aimed at "keeping the big companies from getting a complete monopoly" in the Garrett County gas fields.

The measure has passed the Senate.

Urges More Study

John W. Avirett, an attorney for the Cumberland Allegany Gas Co., asked the committee that the measure be referred to the Legislative Council for further study. He said it does not accomplish its purpose of protecting both the landowners and the gas drillers.

He said further: "We (the drillers) don't want to stew in any feud between a State agency (geology) and the people of Garrett County."

A bill allowing Singewald's department to set up gas regulations was passed in the 1953 General Assembly, but it contained a clause that the Garrett commissioners must approve the regulations. No rules were ever put into effect because a court later ruled unconstitutional the commissioners' power and the 1954 Legislature repealed the act.

Singewald has been accused by Friend, who has leased land to drillers himself, of siding with the gas companies.

Opponents of the measure said the proposed bill would allow the new board to dictate where the companies could drill and they also objected to a clause that pipeline owners must purchase gas from anyone "within a reasonable distance."

Friend said this "consumers purchase" clause would prohibit the squeezing out of smaller operators by the larger companies who refuse to pipe their gas to market.

Earl E. Manges, Cumberland attorney who drew up the bill for Friend and the Garrett County Farm Bureau, said the bill probably would need "slight revision" but that it was a step in the right direction.

Cold Weather Hurts Budding Crop Of Fruit

Although freezing temperatures nipped some of Maryland's budding fruit crop, especially in the Cumberland area, heavy winds which caused extensive damage over the weekend died down yesterday.

In Garrett County where between three and four inches of new snow was reported Sunday, the weather cleared in the afternoon and all highways were reported clear last night by the State Roads Commission. The thermometer rose from about 10 degrees in the morning to 27 late yesterday.

The weatherman said things would continue to warm up today after the mercury dropped again somewhat last night. The cold, windy weather which buffeted Maryland was moving east toward the sea.

Consolidated Orchard, one of the largest in the Cumberland area, said about half the cherry and peach blossoms were damaged in its orchards southeast of Cumberland. Minor damage to fruit blossoms was also noted in Salisbury and Hancock.

No new windstorm damage was reported last night, highways throughout the tri-state area were reported in good condition with no ice or fog.

Swirling snows which caused several accidents in the Bedford and Somerset, Pa., region and hospitalized some 14 persons had stopped last night and temperatures were rising, Pennsylvania State Police said.

Delores Rowley will be the accompanist for the group.

County To Join In Mock H-Bomb Test In June

City's Warning Plan To Be Completed Soon

Allegany County's Civil Defense organizations are planning to cooperate to a maximum degree in a mock hydrogen bomb attack on 50 major cities in June.

William G. Barger, county CD director, said preliminary plans have been received here for the Civil Defense drills planned beginning June 15.

Barger said Cumberland's air raid warning system will be completed by the time the major test is made.

He said he and Arthur B. Gibson, Cumberland CD coordinator, met last week to plan the location of two additional sirens in the city.

He said a final decision on the location of the devices will be made soon, and orders given for their installation.

The additional sirens will provide the city with a top notch warning system, officials said.

Included will be two 10-horsepower sirens, five two-horsepower sirens, the Ridgeley Fire Department siren and the Cumberland Brewing Company's whistle.

All of the sirens, officials said, will be actuated by controls located at Central Fire Company.

Barger pointed out that Ridgeley, which has recently set up its Civil Defense organization, will be asked to join in the big air raid drill.

He said every effort will be made to hold the exercises on a county-wide basis.

Advance warnings of the impending mock attacks will range from two hours up.

Washington, Baltimore and Pittsburgh are included in the lists of cities which will be hit theoretically by bombs packing the kick of 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

Interest Heavy In $2,400,000 City Bond Issue

50 Firms Request Financial Reports

The City of Cumberland has received over 50 requests for financial information since it advertised last week for bids on a $2,400,000 bond issue.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said he has forwarded copies of a condensed financial report to each of the investment firms which has indicated interest in the issue.

Bids on the bonds, the largest single issue to be sold by the Queen City, will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Tuesday, April 5, at 10 a. m.

Included are $2,000,000 of Cumberland Sewage Disposal Plant Bonds, and $400,000 of Cumberland Flood Protection Bonds of 1949, Second Issue.

Gibson said the market for the bonds is expected to be good, since financial leaders point out the visible supply of bonds is not too great at the moment.

General municipal obligations, he reported, were selling for about 2.42 per cent last week.

This is higher than on three issues sold last year, when general obligations—a $350,000 Urban Development and $150,000 of Recreation bonds—sold for 2.25 per cent. A $150,000 Water Department issue, payable first from water revenues and then from general taxation if water revenues are insufficient, was sold for 1.34 per cent.

The sewage disposal bonds will have the same status as water bonds, since interest and principal will be paid from charges set by the city for sewage service, but carry the full faith and credit of the City of Cumberland, which must levy ad valorem taxes to pay bond charges in the event revenues prove insufficient in any one year.

The report prepared by Gibson shows that city property had an assessed valuation of $73,533,359 in the 1953-54 fiscal year, up about $14 millions over the previous year, with assessed valuation about 60 per cent of present actual values.

The bonded debt on June 30 totaled $7,240,000, including $3,615,000 of general bonds and $3,625,000 of water bonds. These include $3,980,000 of term bonds, covered by a sinking fund of $2,653,555.98.

The report projected through 1958-59 the principal requirements for the funded debt.

The 1954-55 general property tax rate for each $1,000 of assessed valuation in the city includes state taxes of $3.67, county taxes of $18 and city taxes of $13.60 for a total of $32.167.

Checking The Watershed

Robert M. Beall, engineer in charge of the local office of the Geological Survey, is shown pointing out check points on the area streams, to his successor Ewell H. Mohler of Tuxedo, Md. Beall has been transferred to the Washington offices and will report there to help expedite the work of the College Park District. Mohler, graduate of the University of Maryland in 1951, as a civil engineer, will assume his duties here April 1, when Beall leaves.

Geological Survey Engineer Transferred To Washington

Ewell H. Mohler of Tuxedo, Md., has been assigned here as engineer in charge of the local office of the Geological Survey, a part of the Department of the Interior, to succeed Robert M. Beall, 41 Cumberland Street, who is being moved to Washington.

A graduate of the University of Maryland in 1951, Mohler has been with the Geological Survey since then, except for a ten-month period when he was doing engineering work for the Suburban Sanitary Commission in Washington.

Mohler is married, has two children, a son and daughter, ages two and a half years and five months. He will assume his new duties here officially April 1, when Beall leaves, and has already established his residence in LaVale.

Beall has been here over two years and came here from Boston, Mass. He has now been assigned to the Washington office to the Annual Reports Section, where he will review the annual stream flow reports and complete data needed for permanent records. Since he is familiar with the work and has been doing it in the field, his supervisors decided he was needed to help expedite the work of the College Park District, to which he is now assigned.

The local station, with headquarters in the Post Office building is charged with the responsibility of keeping regular and daily records of streamflow and stream conditions in this area. Check points or reading stations are located eastward to Hancock, westward to Oakland, as far as Kittimill on the North Branch of the Potomac River, on Wills Creek, Evitts Creek, Big Piney Run, on the Casselman River at Grantsville, and the Youghiogheny at Oakland and Friendsville.

This station is a little unusual, since it checks watersheds which flow in two directions. Beall noted yesterday that his office checks streamflow of streams which enter the Ohio Basin on the one side, and streams which eventually reach the Atlantic on the other side. Meadow Mountain is considered the dividing line.

This information has been compiled on a near-nationwide basis for the past quarter century. It is invaluable as an aid to many other governmental agencies, local governments, weather observers, industry, engineers and the general public.

The information is available for those working on flood control problems, studies of stream pollution, water supply systems, bridge design industrial use and expansion and in many other fields.

In addition to the engineer in charge at the local district office, other personnel include Miss Mary Sheetz, secretary, and Brooke Atkinson, engineering aide, both of this city. During the summer months, the office staff is augmented by one or more student trainees from the Engineering School at College Park.

Lashley To Serve With National Group

Lynn C. Lashley, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, has been appointed as a member of the committee on public supervision and examination of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment has been announced by J. Howard Edgerton, Los Angeles, Calif., president of the league, which is the 63-year old nationwide trade organization of the savings and loan business and represents more than 4,200 savings associations and co-operative banks.

The committee on public supervision and examination studies methods and procedures for improving supervision of savings institutions by public agencies and develops information on savings association operations helpful to public supervisory bodies to maintain effective service to the community's thrift-minded and home-owning families.

Girl Critically Injured When Struck By Auto

Fourth Young Pedestrian Hurt

For the fourth time in the past two weeks an Allegany County child—this time a four-year-old girl—was struck by an automobile yesterday.

Georgette Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cline, 877 Maryland Avenue, was reported still in critical condition but improving by Memorial Hospital at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Omer L. Miller, 30, of 7 Grand Avenue, driver of the automobile which struck the little girl about 1 p. m. yesterday on Maryland Avenue, was questioned in the State's Attorney's office and released.

Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty said Miller told him the child darted from between two parked cars in the 900-block on Maryland Avenue.

The driver said he swerved his car but the right front fender struck the little girl, knocking her to the ground. Miller, who was in the vicinity, took the child to Memorial Hospital where she was admitted suffering with possible fractured skull, broken femur, severe lacerations of head and other injuries.

Miller told authorities he was visiting his mother at 817 Maryland Avenue and had just left, driving south toward Virginia Avenue when the accident occurred.

Getty said no charges were preferred against Miller pending the outcome of the little girl's injuries.

On March 15 John B. Scott, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Scott was hit by a car on South Street and was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore following surgery here at Memorial Hospital.

Timothy O'Rourke, 7, of Frostburg, was hit but not badly injured when he ran in front of a car on Main Street in Frostburg, March 22.

Last Thursday, March 24, George Lowery Jr., 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lowery Sr., 417 Holland Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital after being struck by a car near his home. He is reported improved there by hospital attendants.

Meeting Is Set On Traffic Plan

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan announced a meeting will be held in City Hall at 4 p. m. to discuss the traffic control system for the new interstate bridge at Riverside Park.

Also attending will be Police Chief R. E. Flynn, City Engineer C. R. Nuzum and Lawrence C. Cenna, representing the Potomac Edison Company.

Commissioner Keegan said he has received recommendations of the Bureau of Public Roads for the approach which calls for three traffic lights, including one which would allow vehicles traveling on Greene Street toward the Dingle to proceed on red lights with caution.

He said the plan, which will be studied in detail today, "looks OK."

He said he and Nuzum are also studying a plan designed to facilitate the movement of Route 40 and 220 traffic through Cumberland.

The plan will be forwarded to George N. Lewis, traffic director of the State Roads Commission.

Luncheon Is Planned

The Ruth Bible Class of Central Methodist Church, South George Street, will sponsor a ham luncheon on Wednesday from 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The public is invited to attend.

Police Probe Cresaptown School Entry

State Police last night reported thieves had broken into the Cresaptown Junior High School sometime Saturday night or Sunday causing unestimated damage in the building and stealing a small amount of cash from the desks of the teachers.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator, said the culprits entered the building by breaking the latch on a window into the shop room.

They ransacked the shop room, using tools obtained there to break into other rooms in the building. Doors into the classrooms, cafeteria, storeroom were forced, desks were broken into, and quantities of food were scattered throughout the building.

The latest burglary continued a series which began several weeks ago. The Cresaptown Theatre was entered three times and the Cresaptown Hardware Store was broken into another time, Baker said.

Rural Telephone Interim Changes Are Being Made

Many Will Receive Temporary Numbers

C. and P. Telephone Company crews last week began reorganizing rural telephone service in this area in preparation for the coming conversion to dial operation.

C. Walter Haschert, local manager, said six weeks have been allocated for the rural interim change program.

Affected will be some 1,100 rural telephone stations. Some 800 of these customers will receive "interim" numbers which they will use until their Parkway numbers become effective with the switch-over to dial operation early this fall.

At present, customers on eight party rural lines hear as high as eight rings. Under the dial system, they will hear either one or two rings, and one of the rings will be their own.

Crews last Wednesday began visiting homes served by rural lines, placing dials on telephones and, when necessary, rearranging the customer's position on the line in order to reduce the rings to either one or two.

Some 800 of the rural customers must be given temporary, or interim numbers, in order to provide for the reduction in the number of rings.

The company has set up a system which will make the change a painless one for the customers. The system works like this:

A rural customer's number is changed, say, from 9900-J-5 to 9900-W-1.

When an operator gets a request for 9900-J-5, she notifies the customer who is calling that the number has been changed to 9900-W-1, and automatically puts through the call to the new number.

She is able to do this by referring to an overhead bulletin which lists the changed numbers as they are made.

Haschert said Mrs. Helen Johnson, chief operator, reports the overhead bulletins are working smoothly.

For rural customers, the dial system will have a number of important advantages, since in addition to the reduction in the number of rings, customers will be able to keep their own numbers in case they move.

Driver Gets 60 Days On Motor Violations

Edward A. Stroh Jr., Sparks, Md., was committed to Allegany County Jail for 60 days in default of $200 in fines imposed against him in Trial Magistrates Court, on two motor vehicle violation charges.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick fined Stroh $100 each on charges of driving an automobile on a suspended license and exceeding 70 miles per hour on Route 220 near Dawson.

Amphitheatre Seating Being Built At Park

Golden Says Work Is Half Finished

During the past winter workmen at Constitution Park have been building new benches for the amphitheatre and about half of them have been completed with little extra cost to the city, Robert R. Golden, park superintendent, said last night.

Golden said he noted that the idea of improving the seating in the park, along with installing a public address system and improving the lighting, was discussed at a meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Unfortunately, he observed, Commissioner of Streets and Public Property William H. Buchholtz was absent from the meeting because of an abscessed tooth, or he could have informed the council of the work already done and the progress made.

Cooperated With Crew

Golden said that some months ago, Buchholtz cooperated with the park crew and set up and equipped a workshop for them, so work of this nature can be carried on in bad weather.

The park superintendent said the indoor workshop has made it possible to organize the work at the park, so that the best use can be made of time in both good and bad weather. Golden said used lumber has been obtained from various city jobs and projects, and this material has been dressed and used to build "very comfortable park benches."

He avowed that about half the amphitheatre seats can be replaced this season, and the other half by next season.

As to the lighting at the amphitheatre, Golden said Buchholtz has already ordered a survey on this problem and the lighting is being improved.

On the question of a public address system, Golden said the city will not need to procure one, as there is already one installed for the amphitheatre.

At Council yesterday, Joseph K. Trenton, president of the Cumberland Concert Band, asked that these three improvements be made, as the band is considering more concerts at the park this summer. He noted that these concerts attracted crowds of 2,000 to 3,000 at each concert last year.

At yesterday's meeting the Council, in the absence of the street and public commissioner, referred the proposals of the band president to Commissioner Buchholtz, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum, and Trenton for a study and report.
